Buckmaster Regains Presidency of URW; Board Fight Is Hot

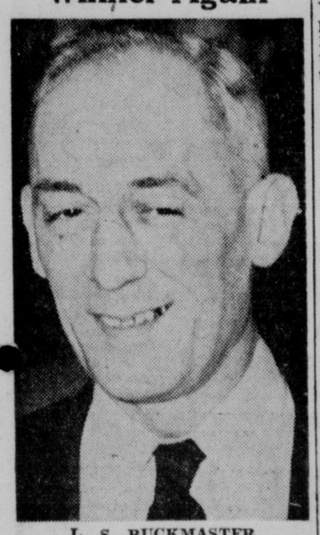

Special to The Mercury

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 21 — L. S. Buckmaster, international president, overwhelmed a token, last-minute opposition today to retain leadership of the powerful United Rubber Workers union (CIO).

The votes for the members of the international executive board still were being counted late tonight after a hot fight. Anti-Buckmaster forces had hoped to seat at least one man from their faction to get a direct pipeline to the international.

Winner Again

L. S. BUCKMASTER

Buckmaster garnered more than two-thirds of the national convention vote to defeat a former executive board member, Carl Samuels, Youngstown, Ohio, 967 to 463. He previously had defeated Samuels in 1948 at the Omaha, Neb., convention to retain the presidency of the union.

The 56-year-old union leader has held the post since 1945, except for a brief time when he was suspended in 1949 following an altercation at a meeting of Pottstown Local 336 in the Eagle's Home association. He was re-elected almost unanimously after the suspension at the convention in Toronto the past Fall.

Samuels, who long has been associated with Buckmaster's opponents, was defeated for the presidency of his local union after he lost in 1948. He formerly headed the group at the Republic Rubber company in Youngstown.

SWEPT INTO office with their chief were Joseph R. Childs, Akron, Ohio, incumbent vice president, and Desmond Walker, Mansfield, Ohio, incumbent secretary-treasurer.

Childs won out over former executive board member Joseph Smith, Passaic, N. J., by a vote of 980 to 424, while Walker defeated Asa Tiller, Dayton, Ohio, field representative, by a count of 921 to 499.

The decision to offer a token resistance to Buckmaster and concentrate on the election of the executive board came after the opposition group had met in caucus last night.

A spokesman said the group decided not to hand the presidency to Buckmaster "on a silver platter" even though it knew it did not have a chance to win.

"We wanted to show him he couldn't get it without opposition," he declared.

TWENTY-FOUR candidates vied for spots on the executive board in the election, 12 nominated by each of the groups. It was certain at least three new men would be elected, since three of the incumbent members refused to run for re-election.

TWIN ATTACKS DRIVE ON SEOUL

Marine Prong Reaches North Outskirts, Second Force Takes Suburb

TOKYO, Friday, Sept. 22 (AP)—Two main columns of U. S. Marines advanced on Seoul Thursday, one reaching the northern outskirts two and one-half miles from the Korean capital's center while the other conquered the bulk of the southwestern suburb of Yongdungpo.

Red resistance was described by frontline reports as some of the toughest since the Allied landings at Inchon Sept. 15.

The South Korean republic's radio at Pusan said the Marines were driving into Seoul from three directions and that an underground uprising was in progress against the Communists inside the city, but it gave no details, and neither of its reports was confirmed.

The drive on Seoul was two-pronged, with each prong split into two forces.

The north prong was that which crossed the Han river Wednesday. One force began pushing down a railroad near the river bank. It ran into heavy opposition.

THE OTHER FORCE pushed inland against Reds on dominating heights at the northern edge of Seoul. Thursday night the leathernecks dug in on the last high ridge overlooking the city. They had halted because of heavy mortar and small arms fire.

The southern prong, moving along a highway due east of Inchon, got into a bitter fight at Yongdungpo, an industrial suburb across the Han from Southwestern Seoul. These Marines struck at Youngdungpo from two sides.

The southermost element cracked through the suburb. It was reported in position to swing down the Han's bank toward bomb-blasted bridges leading to Seoul.

Marines fighting through the fiery streets of Yongdungpo suffered "relatively heavy casualties," said

AREA GIS' WIVES BATTLE BUDGETS ON HOME FRONT

Dependents of Reserves Hit Financially Until Pay Allotments Are Distributed

By FRANK J. DOSTAL
(Mercury Staff Writer)

While Pottstown area servicemen are preparing to meet the Korean threat to world peace, their wives and mothers are caught in a grim battle of the budget on the home front.

With the incomes they had counted upon to meet living expenses cut off when the reserves were called to duty, the servicemen's dependents are in an economic nutcracker until Federal allotments are distributed.

Many will be unable to make ends meet, even at that time, particularly those families with small children.

Under recent legislation, servicemen's families will receive allotments ranging from $85 to $165 a month, depending on the number of children. But payments of the allotments are not expected to be made until December, although arrrangements might be made through individual training centers.

CHIEF AMONG THOSE hit by the sudden loss of income were the families of Marine reservists from the Pottstown area who were called to service almost two months ago. The men were all members of the Pottstown platoon, Company B, 6th Infantry Reserve battalion.

Mrs. Walter R. Zeigler, 281 Lee avenue, was left with the care of four children when her husband, a Marine corporal, was called from his mail carrier's job.

"We've been managing to get by somehow," Mrs. Zeigler said last night. "I don't know how,

WAR SPURS RISE IN JUNK PRICES

Fear of Shortages Adds To Spiraling Costs; Some Items Hiked 300 Percent

Junk has rattled up the price ladder since the start of the Korean war.

The war and the fear of shortages are responsible for the buying boom and its consequent ballooning prices, local junk dealers said last night.

Some items, such as scrap rubber have shot from a dealer's value of zero to between $5 and $15 per ton.

Other commodities have increased up to 300 percent. A few, like rags, have stayed steady.

The higher prices have meant a peppier flow of goods, both to and from dealers to wholesalers and factories. Stocks that have piled up for months have been sold.

Individual citizens have a new interest in junk now with prices up. Old water heaters, stoves and car bodies rusting in the back yard have been shipped off to the dealer.

LIKEWISE, Pottstown's Boy Scouts and the Kiwanis club each have voted to renew their former scrap paper drives to borough homes

CIO Steel Workers Demand Pay Hike; Alcoa Offers Boost

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21 (AP)—Philip Murray's powerful CIO United Steel Workers today demanded higher wages from the nation's steel industry.

Murray did not fix a dollars and cents wage increase goal. He said the exact figure will be set by the union's wage policy committee at Pittsburgh at meetings Oct. 4 and 5.

The soft-spoken, silver-haired labor leader, who heads both the USW and the CIO, said the national interest requires a pay boost for his million member union.

USW leaders made no secret of their view that higher living costs and wage gains won by the CIO United Auto Workers and other unions are making the Steel Workers restive.

Murray disclosed the union fatter pay drive at a news conference concluding the first day's session of a two-day meeting by USW's executive board.

That was just a few hours after the Aluminum Company of America

Solicitor's Advice Sought On Proposed Subsidy Cut

George D. Robins, president of Pottstown's school board, said yesterday he would confer with Attorney Carroll L. Rutter, board solicitor, about the threat of a large cut in the State school subsidy that is hanging over Pottstown.

He said he did not believe the board would be in a position to discuss the issue until it had received detailed information from Harrisburg.

A history-making change in the method of allocating State subsidies is scheduled to go into effect next year.

Unless the change is modified by the State legislature, the change would mean that the borough school district would get about $120,000 less in State aid than it has been getting, it was learned Wednesday from a Harrisburg source.

Jackie Frosts Up the Leaves With Autumn Colors

Any grown-up who doubts that Jack Frost is responsible for bringing blazing color to leaves in Autumn can stop scoffing right now, because The Mercury's photographer caught him with his easel and paint brush in action. Well, anyway, it could be Jack Frost, even if it really is Jackie Ziegler, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ziegler, 3 Diamond court.

A WET CHILLY, WINDUP

Cool Summer Fades Into Fall Tomorrow

A cool, drier-than-normal Summer will disappear tomorrow morning and Autumn will take over at 10:44 o'clock.

The final three weeks of this Summer brought a variety of weather. September started out warm and humid, became chilly, and then settled down to long days of mild, grey and occasionally rainy weather.

It rained six days in a row the past week, not to mention drizzles at the beginning of the month and again yesterday, particularly last night.

Only four days of this month have been cloudless, and eight of them have varied from occasional cloudines to downright gloom.

A light frost touched low-lying sections early this week, one unseasonable night.

THE SUMMER BEGAN with three mild weeks of lovely June weather. July was cooler than average, although it turned fairly hot at the end, while August was .3 degree above normal.

In both July and August the rainfall was only half of what it should have been, and the dry weather retarded crops generally throughout the Pottstown area.

Autumn will come tomorrow, with its promise of cool, invigorating weather and striking color through the countryside, at 10:44 a. m. with the equinox.

At that time, the sun's center will cross the equator, and it is one of the two times of the year when days and nights are about of the same length. The other time is March 21, when Spring will take over from Winter.

The three other seasonal changeovers come on the 20th or 21st of the month.

The Summer-Autumn shift, however, comes a little later, practically always on Sept. 23, since it takes the sun a few days longer to go from the Spring to the Autumn equinox than the other way 'round.

While the wine-in-the-air and crisp-leaves-underfoot type of Autumn is a sure bet for next month, the end of the Summer today and the beginning of Autumn tomorrow are likely to be soggy.

Cloudy, cooler and more rain was the forecast. Tomorrow should be partly cloudy and somewhat warmer.

Previously Deferred Professional Groups To Sign for Draft

Physicians, dentists, pharmacists and other men "in allied categories," who were deferred during World War II and given their education by the government, will register with the draft board on Monday, Oct. 16.

R. Ross Longaker, clerk of Local Board 110, said yesterday he had received instructions for the professional men to sign up.

Throughout the nation on Oct. 16, he said, the registration will be held. Although Local Board 110 headquarters in Pottstown's borough hall will be the nearest place for men in this area, they may register with any draft board.

If a doctor or dentist is in Philadelphia, Reading, Norristown or any other town on Oct. 16, he may register with a draft board there.

The national Selective Service ruling is expected eventually to apply to all physicians, dentists, veterinarians, optometrists, pharmacists and osteopaths.

ALL IN THOSE professions under the age of 50 will be called upon to register in the future.

On Oct. 16, however, registration will be only for one group of those men. It will be for those who took part as students in the Army

Board Told It Can 'Terminate' Services

Pottstown's school board cannot force teachers into retirement at the age of 62.

This was learned yesterday from Stanley C. Fellows, head of the legal division of the State Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg.

He did say, however, that the school board can "terminate their services" if they are from 62 to 70. The teachers then have the opportunity of seeking employment in other school systems if they so desire, he emphasized.

No teacher has to retire until reaching the age of 70, he said. For teachers participating in the State retirement plan (which includes most Pottstown public school teachers), retirement then is mandatory, he asserted.

Fellows said teachers not in the plan can go on teaching as long as they can find a position.

He said a letter outlining the division's opinion has been sent to the Pottstown school district in answer to a request from Pottstown for a ruling on the retirement-termination question.

(The letter has been turned over to Attorney Carroll L. Rutter, school board solicitor, it was reported.)

FELLOWS SAID the school board could, in the division's opinion, use its discretion about whether it should terminate the services of all teachers reaching the age of 62, only certain ones of them, or none of them.

But, he said, any picking-and-choosing would have to be consistent with any resolution on the subject that might be passed by the board.

(As it stood when passed in August, Pottstown's resolution barred such picking-and-choosing by its language: "The services of ALL professional employes . . . SHALL be terminated upon their attainment of the age of 62).

The ruling was passed after it was made by Earl J. Reidenouer, chairman of the board's teachers committee.

At the September meeting, it was sent back to his committee "for further study" after H. Bert Shaw, lone Republican board member, called for the motion to be repealed.

The Mercury has editorialized against compulsory retirement of teachers at the age of 62, pointing out that it would hit such Pottstown teachers as William H. Dillman, H. L. Smith and Peter J. Lawler, who are past 62, and Mary M. Wolf, E. Mabel Royer and W. O. Cressman who are almost 62.

Rural Women Tackle Plan of Trash Disposal

WHEN three women come head-on with the problem of getting rid of tin cans, garbage and the common rubble which accumulates around the house, you can bet your kitchen sink disposal unit that something will be done about it.

And in Union township, Berks county, for about four miles along Route 83, a trio of women have tackled the issue and are bent on getting results. The area extends from Cedarville road through the Unionville and Red Corners to Happel's Lumber yard.

The three, Mrs. John Hallman, Mrs. Frank Munkasey and Miss Betty Kupp, of Douglassville RD, have taken the matter up with residents along the highway in an organized effort to end the daily nuisance chore.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Hallman conceived the idea of rubbish and garbage collection on a pay-as yo-go basis. Mrs. Munkasey and Miss Kupp rallied to the idea.

THE MOVE WAS particularly timely since a common refuse dumping spot along the nearby Black Matt schoolhouse road may be closed to residents in the area. It contains a mountain of tin cans, glass, boulders and rubbish.

Investigation by the women showed that a Pottstown disposal firm would handle the business, providing 50 subscribers could be lined up.

To date, after many phone calls, house-to-house visits and posting the subscription list at strategic points, 35 families have indicated their willingness to have the weekly service for 30 cents a trip.

Mrs. Hallman explained last night that she and her "committee-women" hope to have the required

Milk Price to Rise 1½ Cents Per Quart

Pottstown housewives will pay a penny and a half more or 21½ cents for a quart of milk next month under proposed new orders issued yesterday for Eastern Pennsylvania by the State Milk Control commission.

The tentative orders affecting consumers in this area starting Oct 1 also include a flat 50 cents a hundredweight (46 and a half quarts) boost in producer prices, except in the Philadelphia and Philadelphia suburban areas where the increase will be 60 and 64 cents, respectively.

In announcing the new orders, the commission blamed the Federal government for instigating the extra one-half cent rise. It said its original plans called for only a 40-cent boost to a level of $5.64 per hundredweight for producers and a one-cent increase to consumers.

However, the commission said, the Federal government instituted a producer price of $5.84 in the Philadelphia area, necessitating a corresponding price be fixed by the commission.

Man Injured, Wonders How It All Happened

James F. Palmieri, 116 River road, Birdsboro, was wondering what hit him—or vice versa—last night on West High street in front of a fruit market.

Palmieri suffered a laceration of the forehead when his car struck something—or something struck it—as he was traveling east. He told police he did not know what happened, after he was treated at the Pottstown hospital.

The front end of his car was damaged, Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy and Patrolman Paul Bridegam reported.

Spruce Street Child Drinks Turpentine From Soda Bottle

Soda usually comes in pop bottles, but little 18-month-old Susan Marie Gass, 811 Spruce street, learned last night "it ain't necessarily so."

The youngster tipped an attractive looking soda bottle to her lips and dosed herself with turpentine before her mistake was discovered.

She was rushed to the Pottstown hospital where physicians washed out her stomach and redosed her with charcoal and castor oil to off-set the effects of the turpentine.

At the hospital, her father, Paul Gass, said Susan Marie was playing on the kitchen floor when she found a bottle which her older brother, Robert, four, apparently had filled partly during the afternoon. Unaware of what she was drinking, she poured its contents into her mouth.

Optimists Learn $210 Is Cleared by Circus

The Pottstown Optimist club will have cleared $210 on the circus it sponsored the past Friday, it was reported at last night's meeting by President Roland T. Brauch.

Brauch told the 12 members in the Clover Leaf restaurant that $110 was on hand and that another $100 in tickets and cash remained to be turned in.

The club arranged for several hundred handicapped children to enjoy the three-ring circus on Friday afternoon. They had to guarantee $750 to bring the circus here.

The Optimists voted to support the Recreation commission's Hallowe'en parties the night of Oct. 30 and the parade the following afternoon.

Bruce Lessig will be the Optimist representative to help arrange the parties, and Donald F. Goodnow will be parade marshal, Brauch announced.

Family Abandons Truck Here and Vanishes

Somewhere today a family of four — mother, father and two children — may be wondering if Pottstown is curious about their brief visit to this borough.

Where that family is, where it's going, why it's on the move— no one here knows. Or even cares. Whether they were here a day, a week, a month, only they can answer.

Were they running away from life's complications, seeking something simpler? Or was the father in quest of work?

What kind of people were they, who came to town quietly, and just as quietly left?

This morning, in the 300 block on South street, you can see something this family left behind. Why did they abandon the 1934, half-ton panel truck? Why, especially, did they leave it on a residential side street during the dusk of late evening?

THIS IS THE story of that forlorn, red broken-down truck. Not much was left behind, but there are a few clues that make you stop and think.

Who were they? What were they like?

Here is all that is known, pieced together from the stories told by two residents of the block, John Kontra, 323 South street, and Elmer E. Linsinbigler, 311 South street.

The little red truck, they'll tell you, drove slowly up South street between 7:30 and 8 o'clock Friday night. It stopped at the intersection of Charlotte street, then moved across. It pulled to the side of the street, directly opposite Linsinbigler's home and the lights were extinguished.

It sat there for about 15 minutes. In the front seat, as near as could be made out, were three people: a woman, and two children, maybe 12, maybe 14 years old. Probably a boy and a girl. The boy was behind the wheel.

THERE WAS NO movement, no activity of any kind. Everything was still.

Then, from the same direction came a sedan, about 10 years old. The driver spotted the truck, pulled up to it and double parked.

The back door of the truck opened, and the woman and two children began pulling blankets and pillows and other items from it, transferring them quickly to the automobile.

They themselves then climbed

Soviet Reveals Plans For Construction of Third Super Dam

MOSCOW, Sept. 21 (AP)—Moscow's press announced today plans for another hydro-electric power project, the third such announcement this month, and there were indications that more were still to come.

The announced purpose of the new project is to supply new kilowatt production and make productive, through irrigation, millions of acres of land in the Ukrainian steppe and the Crimea.

The Soviet Union's vast dam construction program is due to get under way in 1951 and be completed in 1957. This is the way the announced program stacks up:

1. On Aug. 21 the Soviet Union announced it would build within five years a great hydroelectric station on the Volga river in the Kuibyshev region, aimed at developing electric power principally for Moscow and other big cities.
2. On Aug. 31 the government announced a second huge dam would be built and completed by 1956 on the Volga at a point roughly 400 miles south of the Kuibyshev project. This project, near Stalingrad, would be aimed at improving conditions in the Northern Caspian lowlands, main source of the dry winds which sweep into the Volga valley and scorch crops.
3. Today's announcement envisions construction of a large hydroelectric power and irrigation project for the lower reaches of the Dnepr river, below the present Dnepr dam, now Russia's biggest. The Dnepr dam was built in the 1930's at Zaporozhe, with American engineers assisting. No foreigners will take part in the new projects.

THIS NEW DAM would be near the town of Kakhovka, not far from where the Dnepr flows into the Black sea. Two 356-mile canals are planed to carry waters of the Dnepr to the dry but potentially productive land of the South Ukrainian steppe and into the northern Crimea all the way to the Kerch peninsula.

It is also proposed to install a quarter million kilowatt power capacity at the Kakhovka dam, about half the existing capacity of the Dnepr dam.

Since the first announcements of these projects, the press has been publishing daily accounts of campaigns to recruit workers, to supply the equipment and to work out the detailed plans for the projects.

Allied Air Might Soars Again to Batter Enemy Columns in New Cover Campaign

TOKYO, Friday, Sept. 22 (AP)—Allied warplanes, credited with killing more than 900 enemy troops yesterday, swarmed out again today in full force for renewed attacks on moving North Korean columns.

The planes were favored with good weather for the third day in a row in their new campaign which provides constant fighter cover for advancing Allied forces along the battlefronts.

An air release, reporting heavy casualties among enemy ground forces, underscored a report Thursday by Maj. Gen. Earle E. Partridge, commander of the Fifth Air Force. Partridge said the new cover system was working "very well" and would be continued.

Thursday's Air Force summary said a new record of 702 sorties were flown Wednesday. It reported 600 Reds were killed in a single strafing attack on North Koreans retreating from the southeastern front.

Today's air summary said the more than 900 enemy troops killed Thursday were along the battleline and roads of retreat. Vehicles, tanks, military buildings and road and rail communications all came under heavy attack.

The summary did not give the number of sorties, or individual flights, Thursday but called it a "near record." The total then was not quite so high as Wednesday's.

BOMBERS, FINDING industrial targets scarce, likewise dumped their deadly loads on enemy personnel. Three training camps near the North Korean capital, Pyongyang, and another at Mirin were hit by B29s.

Fighters and bombers ranged the length of the peninsula. Fifth Air Force B26 light bombers, F80 jets and F51 fighter-bombers flew more than 400 sorties in close support of ground troops. Carrier-based U. S. Navy and Marine planes swept across the Inchon-Seoul area for the seventh consecutive day.

The Royal Australian Air Force also set a new record of 44 Mustang Missions.

Materiel and industrial centers were not ignored, however. Fifteen warehouses at Sukchon, in North Korea, were blasted, and rail lines were cut in many places between Sonchon and Haeju. A bridge was hit at Pyongyang. Fifth Air Force planes destroyed a Russian-built Yak fighter plane, six tanks, 15 other vehicles and a bridge.

Military targets also were hit at Taejon, Kumchon, Okchon, Yonghung, Iri, Kochang, and Sinwan. Tunnels, supply dumps, ammunition areas, and airports at Pyongyang, Konan and Onjon were attacked.

It is good discretion not to make too much of a man at the first; because one cannot hold out that proportion.—Francis Bacon.

How Long Must We Suffer?

THE BOOM is being lowered on the long-suffering Pottstown taxpayer, mainly because local government officials have failed to listen to insistent pleas to equalize Pottstown's assessments.

Because borough officials failed to press a campaign to equalize assessments the Pottstown school district faces a loss of $120,000 in State appropriations.

That presages an almost certain tax rate boost. The burden most likely will fall on property owners, who already are paying 27 mills in school district taxes.

So the taxpayer takes another licking because local officials put off, day after day, the job of equalizing assessments here.

For years, the State has been giving out the biggest slices of subsidy to the communities, such as Pottstown, where there is a very low assessment for the size of the town.

The State's theory was that the lower the assessed value of the town, the poorer it was, and that the poorer it was, the more State aid it needed.

As a result of this theory, Pottstown kept getting large slices of State aid, and local taxpayers were asked to chip in with a much smaller percentage of the total school budget than were the taxpayers in communities like Philadelphia, where assessements run almost twice as high.

The State threatens to bring all this to a screeching halt next year.

"Look here," it is saying to Pottstown, "you've been telling us you were a relatively poor town, with an assessment of only about $15,000,000.

"Why, man alive, you're crawling with revenue possibilities. Our tax equalization experts have discovered your real estate is worth $60,000,000.

"From here on out, Pottstown, you're going to get a much smaller share of the State subsidy, since compared to some communities, you're rich as Croesus.

"You've got taxable property to burn.

"Go out and tax some of it.

"Raise more of the school budget yourself.

"We're going to start giving more money to places like Philadelphia and less to places like Pottstown."

Harrisburg sources have estimated that, as a result of the tax equalization study, Pottstown will get $120,000 less from the State next year than it is getting this year, when it got more than $240,000.

In addition, the State will demand that our school district shell out another $30,000 for pay raises for the teachers.

There seems to be only one way that Pottstown can be spared the $120,000 blow next year.

That is for the State legislature to rule that the market-value method will be modified so that, however little a community should get, it actually will not be given any less than it has been getting.

The State has used this saving modification for the past year.

Whether it will do it again in the January session is an open question.

So far, there has been no great pressure brought to bear on Harrisburg to prevent the market-value method from going into full effect next year.

Even if the legislature does rule that communities like Pottstown will not suffer an actual reduction in their subsidy, the $120,000 tax increase will only be spread out.

With the State subsidy remaining the same and educational costs rising, Pottstown taxpayers will be nicked for, say, $50,000 more next year, $30,000 the next; $40,000 the next, until finally they have the whole $120,000 on their shoulders.

Some taxpayers, whose homes and business places are assessed relatively high, already have their shoulders under the load. Other taxpayers have unfairly low assessments.

This inequity has existed here for years. Pottstown borough finally recognized this five years ago after years of incessant editorial dinning here. A noble start was made to equalize assessments, but politics entered the picture and the good work stopped.

Result: The little guy on the street is going to take another beating around the pocketbook.

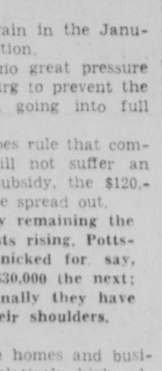

How long must he suffer?

Wal, I see by the papers where a New Mexican housewife captured, by way of a vacuum sweeper a swarm of bees which invaded her home. A honey of an idea!

For one day only, the five-cent hamburger sandwich returned to Ogden, Utah. From what museum did it escape?

And say: British Columbia has a half-million acre ranch. There's one place where the Lone Ranger really would be lonely!

Honor Roll Seen as Way to Remember Our Soldiers

Our Duty, Mother Says

To the Editor: Now that the first draftees have gone into the service and many other young men are being called back to active duty, this community should remember that it has responsibilities, too. They don't end with the farewell speeches and gifts at the railroad station.

The least of these responsibilities—but one that should be neglected no longer—is the placing of an honor roll on the bank building, where it was during World War II, or some other public place.

I know an honor roll of men in the armed forces may seem insignificant to some of us at home. Just a big board with a lot of names, that's all it is.

But let's not forget that before many weeks will pass the men who left on the train Tuesday morning will be coming home on their first furloughs. They'll walk down the streets, straight and proud in their uniforms.

They'll get friendly greetings from their old acquaintances. Yet others will pass them by without a thought.

How wonderful it would be if these men could look up and see their names on that big board. "Serving in the armed forces of their country. . . ," in gleaming letters

Then these boys would know that all of us—not merely their close friends and relatives—still remember them and the sacrifices they are making. Only then will they be convinced that Tuesday morning's music and speeches were little more than a gesture.

Pottstown A SOLDIER'S MOTHER

Puzzling Poll Question

To the Editor: Today, I received in the mail one of the questionnaires being distributed by Pottstown hospital.

Most of the questions I thought fair, providing a chance for free expression of opinion.

There was one, however, that had me stumped. It concerned the facilities for housing and educating nurses. I had only a choice of favoring "poor crowded quarters" for the nurses, the closing of the school of nursing—or a public campaign to build better facilities.

That is like asking someone if he would rather let his mother live in physical agony the rest of her life or shoot her. Either of these choices wouldn't suit most people, so they must find another way.

I had only once choice on the hospital questions, too. But, if asked, I might have answered that the fees for student nurses should be increased to where they eventually could pay for these additional needs.

Pottstown A READER

Sudden Change Is Better

To the Editor: I agree with your editorial in Wednesday's paper which advised wives and families of servicemen from following their husbands to camp.

I disagree with the news article in the same issue which said that the new draftees got good news when they were sent to Ft. Dix, not too far from Pottstown.

I went through it, so I know that it's harder to make the changeover from civilian to Army life when you can spend weekends at home. The agony of breaking away from loved ones is only prolonged.

The best thing that can happen to a new Army man, I believe, is to be sent to a far distant camp right away. It builds no hopes nor brings any disappointments.

Boyertown A VETERAN

Peddling Licenses Required

To the Editor: I sympathize with Mrs. Ruth G. ("Nuisance Season is On," Readers Say, Sept. 16) in her annoyance with the door-to-door salesmen.

But I wonder if she ever thought of asking these peddlers for their licenses. They must get one from the borough, you know.

The licenses cost money, so it's 10 to 1 most of them don't have an .

Then the police should be called. This may be a lot of trouble, but it would prevent others from being bothered, too.

It's one thing to gripe about it and another to do something about it.

WASHINGTON

Marshall Appointment Is Stern Notice to Reds

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—President Truman believes that his appointment of Gen. George C. Marshall as National Defense Secretary will rank with American resistance to the North Korean Reds' invasion as notification to Russia that the United States will mobilize all its resources for a global showdown, if it becomes inevitable.

However, he also feels that the selection of the individual who virtually supermanaged World War II for the Allies, including the Soviet, will incline Stalin toward compromises and peaceful settlements of many pending disputes.

"George Marshall is no war-monger or sabre-rattler," Mr. Truman has told several members of Congress. "He has demonstrated that he is a man of peace and good will. But if any man can prepare this country for future crises, he is the man."

"ASSISTANT": As evidence of the influence General Marshall is expected to wield in presidential councils dealing with foreign policy and military preparedness, Washington wags now refer to Dean Acheson as "Assistant Secretary for National Defense."

Despite possible overlapping of their authority and functions under the new regime, Secretary Acheson is such a devoted admirer of his former superior at State that no serious conflict like the Acheson-Johnson feud is expected to alienate them.

IRONY: In fact, their friendship and former association may mark the end of a wartime and postwar period during which the military and the diplomats rarely co-operated. There is also the consideration that the two agree generally on questions involving Western Europe, the Far East and Russia.

Indeed, the only criticism of the Marshall appointment is that he and Mr. Acheson were the architects of the Chinese program which unfortunate Louis Johnson was not given enough troops to support. Even loyal Democrats recognize the irony in that situation.

DEMOCRACY: Under a blueprint for the "common defense" which General Marshall submitted to the White House, Congress and Pentagon associates soon after he resigned as chief of staff, the American people will be called on for even greater sacrifices than the personal and material hardships now contemplated under a $30,000,000,000 defense budget.

The new Cabinet member is convinced that universal military training is "fundamental" to any system of preparedness. Declaring that "no other practical plan has been offered," he describes it as "democratic and economical," despite whatever it may cost.

"It would be a perfect demonstration of democracy," he once said, "with rich and poor alike, side by side, rendering a common service."

EFFECT: He thinks adoption of a program for a permanent national army in being or training would "have a far-reaching effect in obtaining a satisfactory international agreement for the terms of the peace."

In other words, as President Truman suggests, universal military training might refute the Kremlin's suspicion that the American people have become "soft," and lead Stalin to scrap or at least postpone his plans for world conquest.

IMPACT: General Marshall's other two defense "musts" are "an effective program of industrial mobilization" and "continuous scientific research."

Instead of a half-hearted and makeshift system of making factories prepare to shift to munitions manufacture, he would have key industries set apart a certain section of their plants for turning out and perfecting models of new weapons, with government subsidies.

He advocates the expenditure of many millions instead of a nominal sum on invention and development of ground, air and naval devices, an effort never pressed by the White House, Congress or the National Resources Security board except in time of war.

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

The People Who Make New York

TO A CLOSE OBSERVER of the show world, nothing is more fascinating these days than the reactions of actors and others in the theatrical profession to the recent tempest stirred up by the case of Jean Muir. It is a study in psychology, dissembling, dialectics and fancy public relations, not to mention the art of fooling all of the people some of the time.

Jean Muir

At the moment it would appear that the business like which there is no other business is divided into three parts, consisting of (1) persons who never have been suspected of Communist affiliations; (2) persons who have been suspected, but lightly, of a little Red-front activity here and there, and are trying to be humorously casual about it, thereby denoting innocence; and (3) persons who have been identified as actively affiliated with Communism and are screaming like crazy that they never heard of anything so patently false, and by Gad sir if you say that again you will be slapped on the puss with a glove embroidered in red white and blue and called out on the field of honor.

NOW, SHOW PEOPLE happen to be people about whom I know quite a bit, for the reason that I like show people and I have been around them a good deal. I also am with those who deplore the unthinking boycott and the casual blacklist, and I do not believe that the inclusion of an actor's name in a book, "Red Channels" or any other, should be sufficient to create the general inference that he is guilty of anything, including beating his wife or liking garlic.

But keeping in mind all the freedoms, the Bill of Rights and the basic tenets of human decency, let us not in our anxiety to protect the innocent kid ourselves that some show business personalities are not guilty of treason, past or current.

A COUPLE OF YEARS ago it was rather chic to be thought a Communist. It suggested an intellectual outlook. It went with Picassos on the wall, Gide on the bookshelves, Antheil on the phonograph and lightly bruised gin in the martinis. Communism was like putting a streak in your hair or a dash of ammonia in your soft drink.

Now, along comes a famous and delightful show business personality whom we will call Miss A, and she yelps loudly to the scribbling press that she has been libeled, she has been affronted, she has never been so insulted in her life. She "is not and never has been," to use the classic phrase, a Communist.

Well, I believe half of it. I believe she is not a Communist now. And to be completely fair I believe her defection from the party was accomplished long before it become completely unfashionable to be a Red. I think she just got bored with the party and blew it.

But she was Communist at one time, all right—and I don't mean just a party-liner, I mean a registered, card-carrying Communist. I have it on the most spendid and unimpeachable authority possible: The lady herself.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

GERALD B., 29, is a talented American actor.

"Dr. Crane, for the past three months I have been afflicted with insomnia," he said.

"I can't sleep, so I have doped myself with drugs to produce slumber.

"At present, I feel like a wreck. If something doesn't snap this tension, I fear I'll have a nervous breakdown.

"Do you think some of your psychotherapy would help?"

The main purpose of sleep is to rest the heart!

The normal adult has about five quarts of blood circulating through his vessels.

It is obviously much easier for the heart to stir this blood in the horizontal plane, which we assume when lying down, than to pump it up and down the vertical plane.

The heart thus obtains a vacation when we lie down. For it then pumps at a slower rate and also under a lower blood pressure.

Furthermore, this beneficial effect is present, even during insomnia, as long as a person lies down.

So never worry seriously about your loss of sleep, as long as you lie down and let your heart get its needed rest.

People don't die of insomnia! You'll live, so cheer up! Quit fretting over your wakefulness.

But what first caused Gerald's insomnia three months ago? There is always a reason for every human reaction, and it is generally an emotional conflict.

Such conflicts, moreover, are usually in the realm of love or sex.

Gerald admitted that he had had an affair with a woman a number of years earlier. She was married to another man. Later the woman bore a child, which she attributed to Gerald.

From time to time she would telephone him, and insist on a date. But he later married, and had a child of his own, who is now three years of age.

But three months ago, his wife became pregnant a second time. Six weeks later she had a miscarriage.

The latter occurred shortly after Gerald had received a phone call from his former girl friend, who insisted if he didn't come to see her, that she would tell her husband about the baby.

And Gerald has had insomnia ever since! But his ex-sweetheart had used this same threat before, without causing him such insomnia, so we haven't yet got the complete answer to his problem.

Gerald really believes that his wife lost their second baby because God employed this method of punishing him for his previous misdeed.

Thus, the other woman's threat to tell her husband was not the real cause of his insomnia, for Gerald had already confessed that affair to his wife, so he had no fear of exposure.

But he had not consciously confessed, even to himself, that he felt guilty of being the cause of the miscarriage. His insomnia disappeared following our interview.

DRAFTEES—It has been announced that 43,000 will register for the draft in Montgomery county. It is expected about 1083 will be sent into training camps the first year. Of this number, 70 will be from Pottstown. There are nine draft boards in the county.

ENLIST—Wilfred "Saxy" Becker, of 143 King street, well known saxophone player and leader of a dance band, has enlisted in Company A of the National Guard unit. Others who enlisted this week, according to Capt. George A. Cockefair, are Woodrow W. Wilson, of East Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown; and Leonard Bush, 117 Second avenue, Royersford.

NAVY CONTRACT—The U. S. Axle company, on Water street, has been awarded a Navy contract for engine overhaul stands at a bid of $8748.

POTATO BUG WAR

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 21—Shelley Winters felt real good Saturday. Visited Marlon Brando on the set of "Streetcar Named Desire"—talked while shooting was going on—bounced around in such animated fashion Brando finally prevailed upon her to leave until the day's work was finished! Can this be LOVE?

Liz Taylor

Reports that Liz Taylor and Nicky Hilton are having serious trouble are VERY true! The Taylor side—Nicky doesn't want Liz to continue her career—he ignores her at parties, being more interested in other things (imagine that!). The Hilton side—completely silent so far. Liz really has to put on weight before starting "Father's Little Dividend" October first. They're a high-spirited pair and I hope they work out their difficulties.

Coming from the imaginative Laughton household this HAS to be true—Elsa Lanchester's black eye, the one which caused her to miss a Turnabout Theater performance for the first time in eight years—was caused, she says, by running into a door!

HOLLYWOOD HEARTBREAK—Gloria Swanson's 'Norma Desmond' limousine rolling up Sunset Boulevard. Watching the auto is Mae Murray—unrecognized—waiting for a bus!

Rita Hayworth's brother, Eduardo Cansino Jr., has started drama lessons from Mary Tarcai. Another brother, Vernon, has already appeared in several movies. Now—if Rita only had a sister!

Joan Evans' successful personal appearances with "Our Very Own" lead to ditto for "Edge of Doom." Joan's off for three weeks in Denver, New Orleans and Omaha. This time teacher goes along as chaperone.

"SHE WENT THAT WAY"—the June Haver starrer at 20th-Century Fox—is NOT the same picture as "Thataway" for Bing and Hoppy at Paramount. It's Eva Tanguay's life story.

Now we have the life story of an accordion player! And he's only 20! Dick Contino, the sensation of the squeeze box, will be the subject and probably play the lead—he's a Fresno youngster who started out to be a Priest and got sidetracked. Oh yes—who's backing the film?—the Accordion Association of America. Who else?

What's this about Dorothy Lamour suddenly getting the edge on Ava Gardner and Dinah Shore for that role in "Showboat?"

Richard Carlson's articles on Africa, first in Colliers, have been picked up by Readers Digest.

FOLKS OF FAME—GUESS THE NAME

1. Her face was once familiar to all interested in aviation. She was born in Atchison, Kan., July 24, 1898. She became a teacher of an extension course for the commonwealth of Massachusetts. In 1928 she became the first woman to cross the Atlantic ocean in an airplane, flying from Trepassey Bay, Newfoundland, to Burryport, Wales. She was aviation editor of a national magazine, and vice president of an air transport company. She received many honors. She was author of "Twenty Hours, Forty Minutes," and "The Fun of It." She was lost on a Pacific flight July, 1937. Her name, please?

2. He was born in West Salem, Wis., Sept. 14, 1860, and worked on a farm when not at school. He taught school in Illinois, took up a land claim in Dakota, but soon after went to Boston, began to write stories. Returning to the west in 1893, he became a popular novelist. Among his books are: "The Long Trail," "A Son of the Middle Border" and "A Daughter of the Middle Border," "The Book of the American Indian," "Companions of the Trail," "The Mystery of the Buried Crosses," and many more. He died at his home in Hollywood, Calif., March 4, 1940. Who was this prolific writer?

Out of Territory... Spicer Buys Shop...

★ UNUSUAL CROP — An odd harvest, for this section of the country, is being made on Lewis Emery's farm on Ellis Woods, Pottstown RD 1. There he is harvesting a tobacco crop - common in Lancaster county, of course, but unusual here. Emery has been planting tobacco there for several years, put in three acres of it this year. He finds the field about 1500 pounds to an acre, which, at 28 cents a pound for tobacco, gives him $420 an acre, considered pretty good. Emery's tobacco this year probably will wind up in nationally advertised cigars after he dries the leaves and carts it to Lancaster, where it's auctioned. Emery worked on farms in Honeybrook as a boy, recalls when tobacco brough only 5 cents a pound. Today he buys his plants for 1 cent to 1½ cent a piece, plants then in July and harvests the huge leaves, some measuring more than three feet from tip to stem, in September.

MOONLIGHT SONATA—Was this a new style in casual dress? Folks along South Hanover street wondered Wednesday night at 5:45 o'clock. They gazed curiously at a young woman, wearing bedroom slippers and legs of blue silk pajamas showing below her coat, strooling from South Pottstown to the corner of High and Hanover streets. . . . Two Pottstown seaman recruits, Nicholas Shanta, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Santa Sr., 422 South street, and Donald L. Stephen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Stephen, Pottstown, RD 3, are undergoing recruit training at the Great Lakes, Ill., training center.

★ SHOP SOLD — East End Auto body shop, 96-98 South Keim street, has been sold to Dana corporation for the use of its Spicer Manufacturing division. The former owners, Kenneth Hetrick, 1101 North Franklin street, and Carroll Harp, 856 North Washington street, sold because Harp is being called into active service with the Army. The property, located between Spicer's and South street on the East side of Keim street, has a 125-foot frontage and a depth of 180 feet. On it, are a bungalow and a good-sized brick body shop. The purchasers have given Harp and Hetrick 90 days before they have to vacate. Harp has been given a 90-day extension by the Army to settle his affairs before he will be called from the inactive reserve. Harp served four and a half years in the European theater with the Army, emerging with the rank of master sergeant. He holds the purple heart and oak leaf cluster. He's married, has two children. The Robert H. DeLong realty agency handled the transaction. Howard E. Wolfe was the salesman for the agency.

DID YOU KNOW?—Pottstown residential, commercial and industrial customers whose electric meters are being read every three months, instead of monthly, are under no obligation to pay the estimated bills submitted by their light and power company for the two non-reading months involved. The alternatives is to await the receipt of a standard bill, rendered on a quarterly basis and pay this before its due date. . . . Likewise, you needn't pay for local telephone service in advance. Telephone bills are dated the first of the month, and the local service charge says: "For one month in advance beginning with date of this bill". Telephone employes say if you pay at the end of the month it's not "in advance." How right!

★ SALE—Robert E. Jeffries, general sales manager of the Neapco plant, has bought the house occupied for many years by Henry A. Bell, National Iron bank president. Jeffries, who lives at Pottstown RD 1 expects to move into his new home at 639 High street within a month. The brick, semi-detached, eight-room, English-style house was completly redecorated within the past few months by Gordon R. Keagle, who bought it from Bell earlier this year. Keagle, who works at the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, has not yet bought another home. The sale of the property was handled by N. Douglas Ottinger, salesman for the James J. Moore real estate firm, Gilbertsville.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

ONE of the most frequent accidents involving young children is that of swallowing "the wrong way" and thereby getting food into the windpipe or lungs, a situation which may, at times, cause serious illness or even death.

Parents can do much to prevent these disasters simply by refraining from giving youngsters foods that are hard to chew. Children under five can handle most soft foods well, but they still have to learn to chew hard foods such as peanuts, corn, popcorn, and raw fruits and vegetables, such as apples and turnips. Until they do, all such things should be kept from them.

A recent study showed that peanuts were responsible for the difficulty in four out of five instances, with the other foods mentioned above accounting for the other cases.

Of course, children also have a tendency to put almost any hard object into the mouth. Bits of bone, pieces of rubber, orange peel, and metal objects have all been found in the lungs. Nuts and hard vegetables, however, are the most dangerous since they often break into small bits during the attempt to remove them. Fortunately, many objects can be removed from the lungs with a bronchoscope, a long tube with a light that can be passed into the lungs through the windpipe. This is not a simple procedure and, when the foreign body is one which breaks into ever smaller and smaller pieces, it may be almost impossible to get it all.

In such cases, it is not unusual for pneumonia to develop or for the lung to collapse. Either condition may be extremely serious.

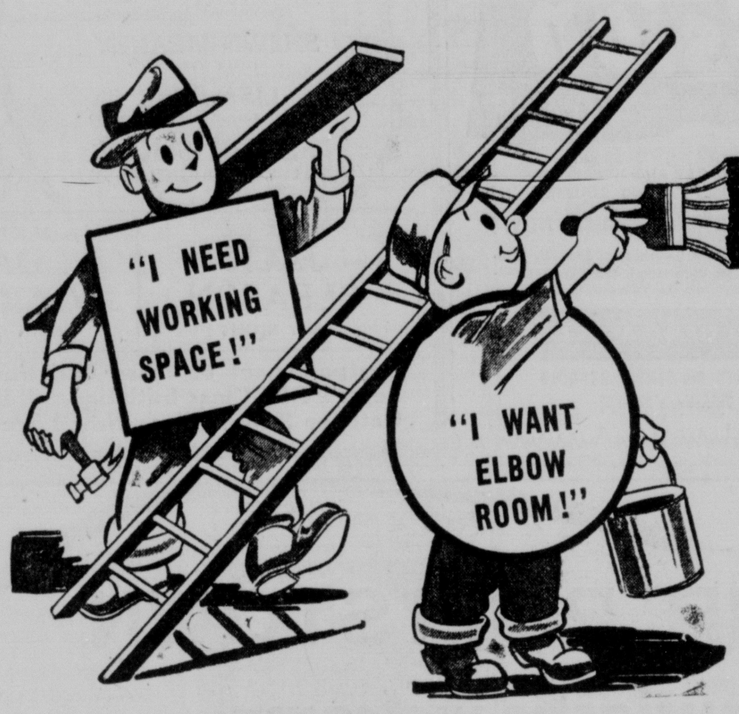

Immediate symptoms of "wrong-way swallowing" are choking, coughing, and blueness of the skin. Then, the child may seem to be all right but, within a few weeks, coughing develops, then wheezing and, usually, fever. It may be many weeks before the child recovers completely, even with hospitalization and the best medical care.

OBITUARIES

MRS. IDA K. (FULMER) BECHTEL, 89, widow of Ephraim B. Bechtel, died yesterday morning in a Norristown hospital where she had been a patient for two weeks.

Mrs. Bechtel had been bedfast since she broke her hip several years ago. She had lived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Halteman, of Pleasant View road, SANATOGA.

Born in East Coventry township, Mrs. Bechtel lived there until her husband died 45 years ago, moving then to the Pottstown area. She was a member of the Trinity Reformed church.

She is survived by a son, Henry F. Bechtel, 175 North Evans street; a brother, Amos Fulmer, of Spring City, RD 2; a sister, Elizabeth, wife of Benton Halteman, Spring City, RD 2, and one granddaughter.

Services will be held from a funeral home at 404 High street at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon with the Rev. John B. Frantz, pastor of the Trinity Reformed church, officiating.

Interment will be in Brownback's Reeformed cemetery.

S. MARIE STORCH, 55, of 269 NORTH HANOVER STREET, died in Pottstown hospital at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She had been in failing health for six months before entering the hospital Tuesday.

Miss Storch was born in Pottstown, a daughter of the late John W. and Catharine (Focht) Storch. She lived previously at 327 and 352 Beech street before moving to her home on North Hanover street 27 years ago.

She was a member of Zion's Reformed church.

Miss Storch is survived by a sister, Anna Storch, 269 North Hanover street; her step-mother, Mrs. John W. Storch, of Fairview Village, near Norristown; two step-sisters, Pearl, wife of Thomas Lewis and Florence, wife of William Wenhold, both of Perkasie; two step-brothers, Noble Gerhart, 267 North Hanover street, and Lloyd Gerhart, of Philadelphia.

Services will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street, with the Rev. Howard A. Kosman, pastor of Zion's Reformed church, officiating.

Interment will be in Pottstown West End cemetery.

Funeral services for WALTER R. LESSIG, 63, of 379 NORTH CHARLOTTE STREET, who died early yesterday morning as he left Pottstown Quoit club on South Hanover street, will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street.

An autopsy performed by Dr. R. Ross Schmidt, Memorial hospital pathologist, confirmed the original belief that Mr. Lessig died of a heart attack.

A lifelong Pottstown resident, he was a son of the late James F. and Sarah (Blair) Lessig. His wife, Olive S. (Maury) Lessig, died a quarter-century ago.

He was a painter by trade, having worked for Pottstown Manufacturing company, Kinsey Distilling company and for local painting contractors.

He was a member of the quoit club.

Surviving are a daughter, Geraldine, wife of Joseph R. Whitacre, 1040 Queen street, and one grandchild.

The Rev. Edward S. Horn, pastor of St. James Lutheran church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Edgewood cemetery.

Funeral services for HARRY L. SMITH, husband of the late Cora (Haas) Smith, of 3 EAST FIFTH STREET, who died Sunday of a heart attack at the anniversary service of New Hanover Lutheran church, were held yesterday at 2 p.m. from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street.

The Rev. Dr. Luther A. Krouse, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, officiated. Interment was made in Highland Memorial park.

Bearers were Thomas P. Smith, Harvey Smith, Walter Jackson, Earl Haas, George Haas and Forrest Haas.

Funeral services for ROBERT EVERINGHAM, son of the late Robert C. Everingham, of 455 HIGH STREET, were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 404 High street.

The Rev. A. Burtis Hallock Jr., pastor of First Presbyterian church, officiated. Interment was in Edgewood cemetery.

Bearers were Earl H. Everingham, Charles Holton, Morris Moriarty and William Holton.

Sees Showdown

Gen. Carlos Romulo (above) yesterday declared the United Nations organization will "wither on the vine" if it fails in its handling of the Korean crisis. Speaking at a dinner given by the city of New York, Romulo said, "The U. N. will either emerge from this crisis stronger, more effective and more highly respected or it will be reduced to futility and will rapidly wither on the vine."

The monastery of St. Urban, near Zofingen, Switzerland, produced great quantities of clay tile for floors and walls during the 13th century.

'Y' Drive Enlists 401 New Members

The YMCA drive has brought in 401 members, it was reported during a report dinner-meeting last night.

No definite goal has been set in the membership campaign, which is scheduled to end Monday night, but workers are trying to renew the 970 memberships which are expiring now.

Jacob R. Sotter, campaign chairman, reported on the progress of the drive.

Of the 401 total to date, 225 were reported last night and 176 the past Monday night.

A surprise feature of the report meeting was a concert by the band of George A. Amole Post 47, American Legion. S. Paul Seeders arranged the band's appearance.

One hundred and twenty campaign workers attended the meeting, as well as 60 members of the Pottstown Rotary club.

The two groups heard the Rev. Tibor Csikesz, of Phoenixville, speak on "We Fight for Him."

The minister declared, "It is not enough to be anti-Communist. We have to be pro-democracy."

He warned that Communism must be resisted. "If we don't want to fight, we'll have to take what's coming," he said.

The Salvation Army, in 1948, maintained 21,767 establishments in 94 countries and colonies.

Eagles' Aerie Plans Cancer Benefit Hop

Plans for a Damon Runyan memorial cancer fund benefit dance to be held in October were discussed last night at the meeting of Aerie 626, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

The dance, scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 26, will take place at Ringing Rocks pavilion which has been donated to the project by Manager Walter Wolf.

Arrangements made by the ticket and poster committees were included in various reports made at the session.

The 25 members present also heard a report on a District 23 meeting held at the aerie's home, 636 High street, the past Sunday. At that time 100 delegates witnessed the initiation of a class of 19 by District Director Harry Meyers, Reading.

John Morello, president, was in charge of the parlay, last night.

35 Textile Workers Here Will Attend Allentown Meeting

Thirty-five delegates from Pottstown textile plants will take part in a State-wide conference of the Textile Workers Union of America (CIO) in Allentown on Sunday.

They will represent the mills being organized by the TWUA in a campaign underway during the past month.

Purpose of the State-wide conference, held by the cotton, rayon and knitting divisions of the textile industry, will be to set wage demands for their plants.

Five hundred delegates are expected at the conference in Allentown's Hotel Americus.

Among them will be representatives of the Vaughan Knitting company, the first workers to join the TWUA in a National Labor Relations board election.

VAUGHAN WORKERS met in CIO hall Wednesday night to draw up their demands.

These will include a 25 percent wage increase, seven paid holidays, vactions up to three weeks after 10 years service, and company-paid life insurance, hospitalization for workers and their families, surgical benefits and health and accident insurance, and a seniority clause.

Next week, the union will ask the Vaughan management to set a date to start contract negotiations.

Two Autos Damaged In High Street Crackup

Two cars were damaged in a rear-end collision at High and Rohland streets Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The drivers were Peter Brozene, of Reading, and Floyd Jenkins, of Collegeville RD 1, both going east on High street.

Brozene stopped to avoid hitting a car in front of him and Jenkins' car piled into his rear. Patrolman Robert Scheidt investigated.

Thomas F. Storm Elected To 'Y' Directors Board

Thomas F. Storm, purchasing agent for the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, was elected Wednesday night to the Pottstown YMCA board of directors.

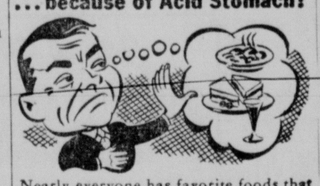

His term will expire in January, 1953.

Storm replaces George M. Longaker, who resigned the past June after serving on the board for 42 years. Wednesday night's meeting was to have been in honor of Longaker, but since he was unable to attend, another meeting will be held in his honor.

Seventeen members of the 23-man board attended the meeting at the Brookside Country club. President W. W. Manship was in charge.

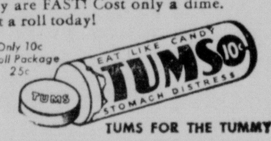

Must You Avoid Favorite Foods?

...because of Acid Stomach?

Nearly everyone has favorite foods that bring on heartburn . . . sourness . . . acid indigestion. But millions have found the answer is simple as A-B-C. They just carry a handy roll of Tums in pocket or purse. Eat 1 or 2 like candy for quick, soothing relief. Tums contain no soda to over-alkalize or cause acid rebound. And they are FAST! Cost only a dime. Get a roll today!

ABA Selects Patterson to Lead Campaign Against Rapid Growth of Interstate Crime

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—The American Bar association today named former Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson to head its own crusade against organized interstate crime.

Patterson

Patterson was appointed chairman of a seven-member commission to work with Senator Kefauver's (D-Tenn) special senate committee investigating gambling and gang activities.

Kefauver asked the help of ABA's 42,000 member lawyers and judges as he spoke on Tuesday to the 73rd annual bar meeting. Growing disrespect for the law, Kefauver said, is endangering "our entire system of government."

Patterson was chairman of the New York City Bar association last year. Designated as other members of the committee were:

Laurence M. Hyde, rhief justice of the Missouri Supreme court; Bolitha J. Laws, chief judge of the Federal District court of the District of Columbia; Philip S. Habermann, Madison, Wis.; Arthur J. Freund, St. Louis, chairman of ABA's criminal law section; Walter P. Armstrong Jr., Memphis, Tenn., and Howard N. Barkdull, Cleveland.

The ABA, meeting here jointly with the Canadian Bar association prepared to close its five-day session tomorrow with final action on a sheaf of anti-Communist resolutions approved yesterday by its General assembly.

One of these indorsed the sweeping anti-subversive bill passed by Congress and sent to President Truman.

Addressing today's meeting, Charles S. Rhyne of Washington, chairman of the ABA committee on picketing of the courts, predicted:

"If Mr. Truman vetoes this internal security act, it will be a bigger mistake than his attack on the Marine corps. Both houses of Congress will speedily override the veto."

The pending legislation, which requires registration of the memberships of the Communist party and "front" organizations, also makes it a criminal offense to interfere with court trials by picketing or demonstrations.

At the annual ABA dinner tonight, Cody Fowler of Tampa, Fla., the incoming president, declared that the bar is ready to fight "the constant attack on our way of life from within by proponents of foreign ideologies."

PENNSBURG

Mrs. Dorothy Stoudt, Pennsburg, corr Tel. Pennsburg 6831 Harold Steltz, del Phone Pennsburg 6142

Collins and Maxwell, Inc., of Easton, are excavating for the new civic structure to be built at Sixth and Dotts streets. The structure, to be built for the borough of Pennsburg, will serve as an auditorium and gymnasium for use by the Pennsburg school district and citizens of the community. The Pennsburg Auditorium Building association, recently incorporated, is headed by the following officers:

Dr. George A. Baver, president; Burgess George Roth, vice president; Allen M. Bieber, chairman of the board; Mrs. Harold Trumbore, secretary, and Irad Eschbach, treasurer.

Reconstruction of Main street, Route 29, has been resumed after a lapse of two weeks. The final topping of bituminous asphalt is completed as far as Fifth and Main streets. The contractors, Collins and Maxwell, Inc., expect to have the highway finished by Dec. 1.

The Weirich Memorial concert will be held Sunday, Oct. 22, in New Goshenhoppen Reformed church by the church choirs of the upper Perkiomen valley. The concert will be in honor of the memory of Eleanor Potter Weirich, late of Pennsburg, who directed the choirs of a number of upper end churches, the last of which was St. Mark's Lutheran church.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Trumbore and family moved to the Renninger restaurant building last week and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gebert and family moved to the Trumbore home on Dotts street.

Elmer Hach Jr., Pennsburg, is vacationing in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trumbore, of Milwaukee, Wis., visited with Mrs. Edith Trumbore, Pottstown avenue.

Dr. William Seaman, of Souderton, will present his second Bible lecture Tuesday, Sept. 26 from 7 to 9 o'clock in St. Mark's Lutheran church. All interested persons were invited.

SALFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Gerhard and family, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Geiger and son, Woxall, and Mr. and Mrs. Titus Stauffer and children, Lansdale, spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gerhard.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wentzel and daughter, Joan, Valley Forge, visited Mr. and Mrs. John Heath.

Mr. and Mrs. George Headley, Philadelphia, visited Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Lake.

Carlton and Marlene Force accompanied friends on a trip to New Enterprise for the weekend where they attended a Brethren Youth conference for the Eastern region.

Mr. and Mrs. Machate, Lansdale, called on Mr. and Mrs. George Baghurst.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Price and daughter have returned to their home after spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. William Price at Vernfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruth entertained a group of 29 people at an outdoor family picnic recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Force and daughter, Loretta, and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bergey visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Radlach at Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fehr, Trooper, visited Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lawrence over the weekend.

PROGRESS REPORTED

PAINTED POST, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—Some progress in efforts to reach a settlement of the 12-week-old strike of nearly 1600 workers at the Ingersoll-Rand plant here was reported today by a State mediator.

Plan to Halt U. N. Drive At 38th Hit by Scott

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—The State department was accused by Rep. Hugh D. Scott Jr., (R-Pa) today of planning "to subvert our military victory" in Korea by calling a United Nations halt at the 38th parallel.

"The Hiss Survivors association down at the State department, who wear upon their breats the Cross of Yalta, are waiting for Congress to go home before they lift the curtain on the next act in the tragedy of Red appeasement," Scott said in a speech inserted in the Congressional record.

Personal
To Women With Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

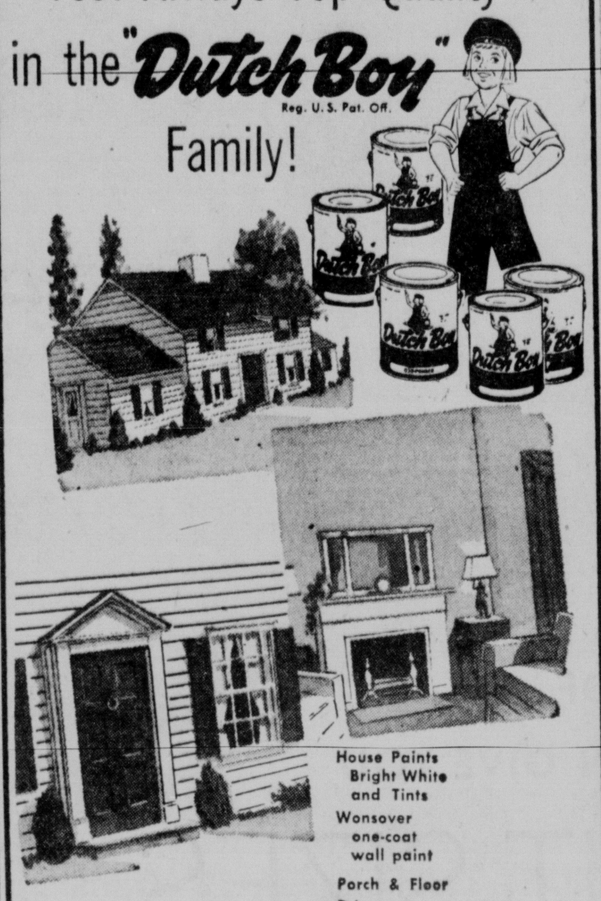

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief — help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

A-Bomb Opposition Is Unanswered by Landings at Inchon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—The difficult and superbly executed landings at Inchon leave unanswered one of the major military questions of this age:

How would an amphibious operation fare against an enemy equipped with Atomic bombs?

Inchon presented grave natural obstacles to the Navy-Marine team that accomplished the landings and Army divisions that followed them up.

The tide there varies 28 to 32 feet. Landings can be made for only three hours out of 12. At low tide there is a broad expanse of sticky mud along the shore.

In addition, the harbor was commanded by an island that had to be cleared of enemy troops before ships could venture inside. And the Marines faced intense fire from the protected positions that Inchon provided.

DESPITE THESE difficulties, the landings were undertaken because of the strategic opportunity to strangle the North Korean army in the South by choking off its principal supply line.

The landings did not run into the air power that might be met if this country were at war with Russia instead of Communist Korea.

Ot least local air supremacy is considered essential for any successful large scale amphibious landing. In this case complete command of the air over Korea was won well in advance by the Air Force and Navy and Marine fliers.

Wresting air supremacy from the small Russian-equipped North Korean air force took only a fraction of the time that was required to defeat the German and Japanese air forces in the last war, or that presumably would be required to overcome Russia's air force in the event of a general war.

Another obstacle that the assault forces did not face in Korea, but might face in a war with Russia, is the atomic bomb.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said last Fall that the atomic bomb, properly delivered, almost precludes the possibility of large scale amphibious operations.

IN A CURRENT ARTICLE in the Combat Forces Journal and the Readers Digest, Bradley says American frontiers today lie in the heart of Europe.

"In any World War III," Bradley says, I would rather fight to defend Western Europe on ground already prepared than to lose our foothold and have to return by air or by sea."

The Navy and Marines are striving to develop ways of dispersing troop convoys so as to make them unprofitable targets for atomic weapons.

One method being tried is to land troops by helicopter from aircraft carriers widely dispersed and out of sight of land.

Walrus are hunted for their hides, oil and ivory tusks and natives of the Arctic coasts like to eat the meat.

Ex-Local Minister Is Named Bishop of Evangelical Group

The Rev. John A. Smith, who pastored Trinity Evangelical Congregational church between 1916 and 1920, yesterday became bishop of the Evangelical Congregational denomination for a four-year term.

The denomination has churches in most states of the East, with a concentration in Pennsylvania.

He was elected at the quadrennial denomination meeting in Allentown. Among those attending the session was the Rev. Donald T. Floyd, present pastor of the local church.

The Rev. Smith came to Pottstown in his early 20s from his native Akron, Lancaster county.

During his pastorate here the church was extensively renovated; the present tower was erected on the roof and stained glass windows were installed, replacing the former frosted glass.

ALSO WHILE he was here, the Rev. Smith married Maude Weikel, a Pottstown girl who had been baptized and confirmed in the church. The wedding was in the church on June 6, 1917.

Since then, her husband has had charges in Allentown and elsewhere, but Mrs. Smith has returned frequently to Pottstown for visits.

"I have a warm spot in my heart for Pottstown," she said yesterday to the Rev. Floyd.

The denomination yesterday ordered that its first episcopal manse, or bishop's home, be purchased in Allentown. Bishop and Mrs. Smith will occupy the home as soon as it is bought. They are now living in Allentown.

The conference, which began the past Wednesday, will end Monday. The Rev. Floyd has been commuting to the sessions.

'Flying Squadron' Rally To Be Conducted Tonight

The Salvation Army's "Flying Squadron" of 40 young people from Eastern Pennsylvania will hold its first outdoor rally in a weekend series tonight at 7:30 o'clock on the north side of High street, west of Charlotte street.

This was announced yesterday by Capt. Meral E. Cox, commander of the Pottstown citadel, who said the borough "Army" band will appear with the group of 40.

There also will be singing and a short speech by Major Lyell Rader. From Pottstown, the group will move on to Reading, Allentown, Bethlehem and Easton.

STEEL WORKERS —

offered its 45,000 employes a 10 percent pay boost.

THE CIO UNITED Steel Workers represent about 20,000 of Alcoa's 30,000 production workers.

Murray said Alcoa's voluntary offer will be considered by the USW at a meeting here Saturday which local union leaders will attend.

The offer made by the nation's largest aluminum producer will add pressure on the steel union to win a raise for its members working in steel plants across the country.

The rollers, scarfers and other steel mill toilers now earn $1.70 an hour on the average. That is higher than the reported Alcoa pay range of from $1.08 to $1.31 but lower than the $1.75 now earned by the auto workers.

THE STEEL WORKERS — and aluminum workers as well—abandoned wage increase demands levelled in 1949. Strikes in the aluminum and steel industries were settled with the USW agreeing to pension and insurance programs in lieu of a fourth round of post-war pay hikes.

Murray said the 36-man USW executive board, the union's policy-making body, voted to send letters to 1400 steel companies notifying the firms the union is out for more money.

The companies are those whose contracts permit reopening on wages this Fall and strikes Jan. 1, 1951, if no agreement is reached.

The identical contracts call for wage reopening Nov. 1 of this year. But Murray wants them to move the date up to Oct. 9. He made it clear, however, that if the steel companies don't agree to his request, the USW will obey the contract terms.

JUNK PRICES —

with a drive sometime in October, pending a good market for paper then.

But at least one dealer, John Balogh, whose yard is at Adams and Beech streets, worried about the effect of another war on the junk business.

Because prices the past war and immediately afterward were up to almost double what they are now, much of the country's supply of junk was cleared out, he said.

"You used to be able to go to farms and come away with a whole truckful of old machines. And maybe you'd see an old car sitting in a ditch that you could get But not today. The war got it all," he said.

In addition, some items are being kept because of feared shortages. Tires are in this class.

THE SCRAP situation, commodity by commodity, is:

Steel: Small dealers get between $20 and $23 a ton, which is between $2 and $10 more than they were getting four months ago. Big dealers get $28 to $38 per ton, depending on the grade. This price has gone up since April.

Cast iron: Small dealers get between $21 and $26 a ton, an increase of between $2 and $15 in the past quarter. Big dealers average between $38 and $45 per ton, an increase of $5 in the same period.

Glass: Until recently, it did not pay dealers to haul this commodity to market. Now it retails between $12 and $26 per ton for white glass.

One dealer just sold four month's supply, held because of poor prices. One reason for demand, it was believed, was a recent strike in the soda ash industry. Soda ash is used in the manufacture of glass.

Rubber: Another drug on the market until recent weeks. Now brings dealers between $5 and $15 per ton. Dealers buy old tires for between 5 and 10 cents.

One outlet for scrap rubber locally has been the Schuylkill river clean-up project.

PAPER: DEALERS used to burn it a few months ago. Now they get 60 to 85 cents a hundredweight for it, more than double the former price in some cases.

Price to the individual paper seller may be as high as 75 cents a hundredweight if paper is clean and bound in bundles.

Batteries: Almost universal price is $2 apiece. Until a few months ago, the price ranged from $1.25 to $1.75. The lead plates are what buyers are after.

Copper: Small dealers get about 12 cents a pound, about 3 cents over the price six months ago. And big dealers get 17 cents and up per pound, an increase of 4 cents over former prices.

Most small junk men don't handle enough copper to ship often. Prices thus are variable.

Light metal (auto fenders, roofing etc.): Dealers may pay almost anything for light metal, starting at nothing but the service of hauling it away. They get anywhere from 50 cents to $1 per hundredweight for it.

Rags: Dealers get 4 to 5 cents a pound, a price which has not varied much for a few years.

THEY CRASHED through with bayonets under Marine air cover and severed the main railroad and highway leading south from Seoul.

Earlier field dispatches said other Marines cut into Seoul's northern outskirts at 6 p. m. Wednesday (5 a. m. Wednesday Pottstown time), but Lambert's dispatch shortly before midnight Thursday indicated they were not in the city proper.

Lambert said a Marine advance force which had crossed the Han river northwest of Seoul was having difficulty moving up ammunition and supplies but had advanced to within two and one-half miles of the city's center. This unit was within sight of Seoul's few high buildings and radio antennae. The radio, incidentally, abruptly went off the air Thursday night in the middle of a Communist program.

A North Korean force estimated at between 600 and 1000 men crossed the Han on the northern flank of the Allies' Inchon beachhead and fired a few shells into Kimpo airfield, the Korean end of a busy American airlift priority supplies for the Seoul fighting front.

but we've done it."

Zeigler sends money for the support of his family from his meager service pay, but relatives and friends have joined in helping his wife. Mrs. Zeigler's mother has aided whenever she can.

But with four children ranging from 6 to 13, Mrs. Zeigler has found it necessary to draw on their small savings to get by.

One ray of hope is that authorities at Camp Lejeune, the Marine base at which her husband is serving, may make it possible for Marines to send their allotments in October and November before the government takes over in December.

Zeigler may be able to send $125 each month to his family.

"It's not much with four kiddies," Mrs. Zeigler said of the allotment. "You can just about exist on it, and I guess that's what we'll do."

* * *

MRS. SHIRLEY WEIDENSAUL, 816 North Washington street, has not had even the benefit of the small amount her husband, Cpl. Richard Weidensaul, could have sent her from his pay.

Weidensaul sailed from California two weeks ago for the Korean combat zone. Like most men in transit, his pay has not caught up with him.

"I don't know how they expect us to get along," Mrs. Weidensaul declared.

To support their two-year-old son, Richard Jr., she has held onto her job. Her mother has helped her in her struggle to get along by moving in with her in the Weidensaul's new home to care for the boys.

Mrs. Weidensaul does not expect to receive any money from the government until December.

The loss of her son's income has been a blow to the resources of Mrs. William M. Miller, 335 Spring street, Royersford, although her husband still is working. Her son, Cpl. William N. Miller, had turned over most of his pay from his civilian job to help her support her two younger children.

To meet the rising costs of food and other essentials, Mrs. Miller has been thinking of looking for a job. Her youngest child now is of school age.

"We are not as badly off as many others," she remarked, "but it is just a struggle from hand to mouth.

"I miss the extra income, but not as much as I miss him."

Miller now is on his way to California for possible overseas duty.

The family of Marine Staff Sgt. Glenn K. Maxwell, 44 King street, has joined to help his wife and 3-year-old daughter.

"I am luckier than most," Mrs. Maxwell said, "in that we have an apartment here with my mother-in-law. We are not faced with paying high rent or trying to pay off a new home."

Her husband sends her money regularly from his pay at Camp Lejeune to help relieve the economic stress she must undergo even with the aid of his family.

URW CONVENTION —

Local 336 were nominated for the important posts. All were present during the voting, but took little active part in the proceedings.

The familiar white chefs' hats also were missing today for the first time.

A final struggle in the week-long convention is expected tomorrow when the constitutional amendment to increase the minimum local dues is brought to the floor again. Under the proposal, Buckmaster hopes to gain an increase in the international's income to meet its financial needs.

The opposition has pledged itself to defeat the measure, if possible, in order to weaken the top structure of the international and embarrass Buckmaster. It believes it can muster more than the required number of votes to squash the amendment.

Amendments to the constitution require a two-thirds vote for approval. Buckmaster will have to garner more than 960 votes if all the delegates turn out tomorrow.

Problems of Workers Told to Underwriters

Dr. Gustave W. Weber, director of human relations at the Doehler-Jarvis die casting company, explained what employes expected of a company, before members of the Pottstown Association of Life Underwriters yesterday.

He spoke to 19 members during a luncheon meeting at the Brookside Country club.

From a company, Dr. Weber said, workers expect to make a living that will allow them to "maintain their dignity, security and social distinction."

He said that most of the problems that come to him stem from difficulties in the workers' home life, not from something wrong with working conditions.

The speaker pointed out that reactions to home problems turn up in the plant, in the form of bad work, bickering or other hindrances to a smooth flow of production.

Dr. Weber commented that unions, especially under present improved leadership, are an asset to a company, and that management would be foolish to oppose their organization.

The luffa, or loofah, is sometimes called the dishcloth gourd because its fiber takes up water like a sponge.

ABANDONED CAR —

in, and the car moved off, east on South street. Not more than a few minutes could have passed; then the street was dark and silent.

That's the simple story. Who were they?

AN EXAMINATION of the lonely, little truck itself adds just a few more bare details. Its age has told heavily on it. The roof is sagging and has been pitch-patched several times, but it doesn't leak.

The front interior has been stripped of all evidence of any comfort or driving convenience. The left side of the dash board is shorn up by a piece of two-by-two timber. The slightest pressure against the back of the driver's seat would send any occupants sprawling into the rear.

There are more clues that suggest this family used the truck as living quarters. Left undisturbed are a large khaki-colored blanket, two smaller, once-white blankets, a four-legged stool and a half-empty jar of shaving cream that hadn't been used for a long, long time.

Also left behind by the occupants were a jack-handle, an old automobile generator, an empty carton for a deck of cards, and a six-foot length of binder twine.

That is all.

UNLESS THE license plate has been stolen, the family apparently came from Florida. The truck bore a single rear tag, issued this year.

That the old vehicle had seen plenty of open road is indicated by the speedometer reading of 00244.6 miles. How many times the dials had spun completely around can only be speculated upon.

The cooling system is dirty and clogged, and almost empty. There is only a little oil in the crankcase.

Three of its four tires are in good condition, but the front right is worn badly on its outside edge. The battery has just enough life in it to blow the horn. Depressing the accelerator results only in a mournful moan from the engine.

POTTSTOWN POLICE have watched the truck with curiosity.

Two teletype reports asking the Florida authorities to check out the license number have not brought results. The State of Georgia, which is handling all Florida police contacts, has been unable to obtain any verifying information because its network is temporarily out of order

If the truck is not claimed in another day, police said last night, it will be hauled away. Whoever does the job, can attach the tires in lieu of settlement of any hauling charges.

Meanwhile, where is the family which drove away in the night, after stopping here—for how long?

And why, in their apparent haste, did they lock one door, and leave the other two open?

Your guess is as good as that of anyone else. Because no one seems to care.

Specialized Training program, or in a similar Navy program during World War II, such as the V12 arrangement.

It also will be for those men who were deferred from active duty during the war to continue their studies in any of the above fields.

If any men in those professions had less than 90 days of active duty during World War II, they still must register on Oct. 16, Longaker asserted.

THE REGISTRATION was authorized in Washington recently by Congress as an amendment to the Selective Service act of 1948.

First, Defense officials called upon medical and allied men to enter active duty voluntarily, after the Korean war broke out.

A lack of volunteers led to the registration act.

Longaker said he did not know how many men in the Pottstown area would have to register. He also has not been informed how many of each group may be called to active service, and when such a call may be forthcoming.

Registration will take place in the office of Local Board 110, on the second floor of borough hall, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Longaker will be in charge.

Woman's Club Hears Program of Music

The Woman's club, of Royersford, opened a new season with a dessert meeting Wednesday afternoon in the Reformed church social hall.

A program of music was presented, following the business session, conducted by the president, Mrs. William F. Wolfe Jr.

After a report by Mrs. Paul S. Krasley stressing the importance of voting at the coming general election, it was announced that an open meeting would be conducted Oct. 18.

At this meeting Mrs. Frank B. Sprogell and other members of the League of Women Voters will speak on the general theme, "An Unbiased Preview of the November Candidates."

MRS. CARL B. MERZ, chairman of international relations, read letters of appreciation from several European countries, acknowledging receipt of money sent the past Spring to aid in replenishing books in the libraries which were destroyed during the war.

Mrs. Merz also reported the General Federation of Women's clubs is supporting the Crusade for Freedom, a movement to gather funds to aid in getting radio broadcasts through the Iron Curtain.

Highlighting the program was Mrs. Verna Lambert, reader and whistler, who also provided selections on a musical saw. Mrs. Lambert was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Adelaide Duffield. Both are from West Chester. Hostesses were Mrs. William Harbison and Mrs. Helen Weigel.

Hospital Notes

Mrs. Bertha Yeagley, Royersford, has been discharged from Phoenixville hospital.

Instructor Tells Lions About Korean Conditions

Lt. Col. Joseph A. McDonough, professor of military science and tactics at Drexel institute, Philadelphia, impressed Royersford Lions club with a first-hand description of conditions in Korea at a semi-monthly meeting of the club Wednesday night.

With two years experience in Korea behind him and two and one-half years before that in the Pacific theater during World War II, Lt. Col. McDonough described the cause and progress of hostilities and the conditions in Korea. A question and answer forum continuing until 11:30 p. m., followed his address.

HOUSE APPROVES U. S. AID HALT TO SOVIET TRADERS

Act Will Affect Nations Whose Shipments Are Seen Harmful to Security

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—The House voted today to shut off U. S. economic aid to any country whose trade with the Soviet bloc is—in the opinion of the National Security council—"contrary to the security interests of the United States."

This compromise action came after President Truman protested that a more rigid ban, adopted earlier by the Senate, would hurt Western European countries more than it would hurt Russia. Mr. Truman said the Senate plan might force some countries into the Soviet sphere.

The House vote in favor of the compromise proposal was 286 to 30. It was up to the Senate to decide whether to insist on its own plan—put forward by Senator Wherry (R-Neb)—or to go along with the somewhat milder House version.

Wherry said the House proposal doesn't add anything to the power the government already has under the law setting up the Marshall Plan.

"The House provision doesn't carry out what we had in mind at all," he told a reporter.

But Wherry said he hadn't decided whether to fight for keeping his plan.

BOTH SENATE and House proposals are in the form of amendments to a $17,000,000,000 emergency appropriation bill for bolstering the defenses of this country and its Allies. Both are intended to stop America's Allies from selling strategic materials behind the iron curtain.

Wherry's amendment would impose a flat ban on economic aid—but not on arms shipments—to any country sending the Soviet bloc "arms or armaments or military materiel" or anything else that would be useful for military purposes.

Paul Hoffman, Marshall Plan administrator, said this would virtually wipe out trade between Russia and the West—trade, he said, that benefits Western Europe more than it helps Russia. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, endorsed Hoffman's view. So did Mr. Truman.

General Assembly to Weigh U. S., Russian Peace Plans

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—The U.N. assembly's steering committee called today for full debate on an American program for combatting aggression and on a counter Soviet bid for peace on the lines of the Communist-backed Stockholm peace appeal.

Without a murmur of dissent, the major proposals of U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky were moved toward the assembly by the 14-member steering committee.

In other decisions, the committee voted down Russian objections and recommended assembly consideration of:

1. A charge from Nationalist China that the Soviet Union aided the Chinese Communists attain power and is a threat to the peace of the far east. The vote was 11 to 2 (Russia and Czechoslovakia) with India abstaining.
2. A demand by the United States, Britain and Australia for Russia to account for thousands of German and Japanese war prisoners. The vote was 12 to 2 (Russia and Czechoslovakia).
3. A review of the Franco Spain situation. The Dominican Republic wants the assembly to study again its 1946 resolution to recall ambassadors from Madrid. The vote was 10 to 2 (Russia and Czechoslovakia), with Cuba and Iran abstaining.
4. A review of the Balkan situation.

The vote again was 12 to 2 (Russian and Czechoslovakia).

Sir Gladwyn Jebb, of Britain, president of the Security council this month, tangled with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik on the Soviet proposal that the assembly take up a charge of American aggression against China.

Jebb called it "ridiculous" and "propaganda" and in effect demanded that the Russians show their hands on this charge.

Night-Long Vigil Is Started To Snare Elusive Whistler

PARADIS, La., Sept. 21 (AP)—A half dozen sheriff's deputies stalked a dusk-to-dawn patrol tonight around the white frame home of an 18-year-old bride-to-be, terrorized for months by a phantom whistler.

The unknown whistler who began serenading Miss Jacquelyn Cadow with eerie funeral dirges last February, has vowed to stop her Oct. 1 marriage to 26-year-old Louisiana State Trooper Herbert Belsom.

While this little Bayou community of 200 watched and waited last night, the whistler called the home of Belsom's parents in New Orleans, 25 miles to the east.

"Jackie is dying at 12 o'clock tonight," the voice whispered.

The State police said they were convinced the whistling was the work of a prankster and were stepping out of the case. Neighbors are undecided whether the nocturnal whistler is a prankster, a would-be killer, or a harmless lunatic.

Mrs. Clifford Cadow, Jackie's mother, said the "mystery man"—whistling tunes and wolf calls—began skulking her home at night the past February after Jackie had met Belsom the previous July. When Jacquelyn's engagement was announced Aug. 1, the mother said the whistled tunes changed to a funeral dirge and telephoned threats began.

Oakes Case Clue Termed 'Truth,; Probe to Resume

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 21 (AP)—The 31-year-old machinist whose barroom talk set off a fresh investigation of the 1943 unsolved murder of Sir Harry Oakes in The Bahamas, was "telling the truth," a Nassau police official said today.

"As far as I am concerned, Edward Majava is telling the truth," Augustus Roberts, assistant police superintendent at Nassau, said cautiously, as he made ready to fly back to The Bahams.

"I am through questioning him, and his story will require further investigation," added Roberts, who quizzed Majava all day yesterday at the Oakland jail, where the machinist was held until today.

Roberts said the investigation would continue, but he declined to say what the next step would be. He was scheduled to leave here at 9 p. m. tonight on a flight arriving at Miami tomorrow, from where he will continue to Nassau, Roberts said.

Marshall Starts Job Minus Splash, Dives Into Heavy Schedule

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—General George C. Marshall plunged today into his new assignment as the nation's secretary of Defense with a soldierly minimum of ceremony.

The five-star general, who will be 70 on Dec. 31, was sworn in at his office in the Pentagon building in the presence of only five other persons.

Marshall took the oath standing in front of the old, dark-stained desk once used by the late General of the Armies John J. Pershing.

Immediately afterwards, he went into a conference with the joint chief of staff, leaders of the armed services, and arranged to depart later in the day for a speech tonight at Rochester, N. Y.

Tomorrow he will go to New York City to meet with the defense ministers of the Western powers on the problem of re-arming Western Europe.

At his first news conference this noon, Marshall spoke with undertones of regret at leaving retirement at his Leesburg, Va., home to return to official life.

The general told newsmen:

"It is going to be harder on Mrs. Marshall than anyone else. She was game, but it was pretty tough for her."

Marshall agreed to serve at the personal call of President Truman, who asked him to take over the top Defense post immediately after dropping Louis A. Johnson from the cabinet a week ago Tuesday.

Congress passed a special law waiving the legal barriers—in his case only—to permit Marshall, a soldier for 45 years, to take office.

Marshall told reporters today that when he testified at a Senate hearing on his nomination earlier this week, he "did not mean to disavow the 1945 China policy" which he attempted to carry out on a special mission to China after World War II.

Soft Coal Operators Set to Combat Lewis

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Producers of about 40 percent of the nation's soft coal confronted John L. Lewis with a unified bargaining front today for the first time in the history of the industry.

Strategy of the coal operators is to try to prevent Lewis from pushing his famed "divide and conquer" tactics when his United Mine Workers begin bargaining.

The group which completed organization today is called the Bituminous (soft) Coal Operators association.

SEES POLIO INCREASE

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis now expects 30,000 cases of polio this year, instead of the 25,000 previously estimated.

Soviet Asks West Okay For Red Demonstrations

BERLIN, Sept. 21 (AP) — The Russians topped a series of new spark-producing incidents in the divided city today with a demand that the Allies open up Western Berlin to Communist demonstrations.

The Soviets timed their move to back up the East German election campaign. The Oct. 15 voting is restricted to the Soviet zone but the Communists are using it in a new and mounting drive to frighten the West Berliners.

The demand was sent by Sergei Dengin, chief of the Soviet element in Berlin, to the American, British and French commanders. There was no official reaction to it as yet but an Allied spokesman derided the Russian action as a waste of time.

Dengin protested, in his letter, against the West Berlin city government's suppression of Communist rallies and of efforts by the German Reds to collect signatures for the Kremlin-inspired petition to ban the atom bomb. Hundreds of Communists were arrested in the West sectors several weeks ago on both counts after defying ample notice to stop such activities.

THE WESTERN commandants issued an order last week forbidding any rallies, actions or publications likely to "incite to riot" in West Berlin.

Hitting back at this, Dengin declared:

"I protest against such acts by the Western powers and demand the cancellation of all unlawful orders issued by the West Berlin government which are directed toward the brutal suppression of the freedom of action of the supporters of peace."

The Russian gambit topped two days of peculiar scene shifting in the divided city which the western powers have now formally served notice they will defend as they would their own capitals.

Russian and British soldiers continued late today to glare across a disputed border point where the Soviet zone and British sector meet. On a higher level, officers of both sides were trying to iron out the controversy which cropped up when Soviet guards tried to inch their checkpoint into British territory.

Photos of Yanks Missing in War Buoy Families

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—First photographs described as from a North Korean prisoner of war camp gave new hope today to a number of American families that their missing men still are alive.

Families across the nation huddled around the pictures and recognized a son or a husband who officially is listed only as "missing in action."

The photographs were distributed by the Associated Press. They were obtained from Eastfoto, a New York picture agency, which said it received them from the China Photo service in Peiping, China.

Captions on the pictures, mailed from Peiping the second week in September, gave purported names and hometowns of some of the prisoners. The Associated Press showed the pictures to the families in the United States in an attempt to confirm the identifications.

"Yes, that's Billie," said Mrs. William H. Stansbury, of Kansas City, Mo., viewing one of the photographs.

Her son, William, 19, was reported missing in action July 8.

"It's a relief to know what happened to him," she said. "You just are notified that he has disappeared and then no one knows anything. It's a lot better now."

ISSUES CHALLENGE

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 21 (AP)—Senator Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.) declared tonight that "the Democratic party is ready to meet the Republican party on any battleground that its leaders can agree upon."

Green Named Boss Of AFL Again, Asks End of Labor Split

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 21 (AP)—William Green was named to a 27th term as head of the American Federation of Labor today, and in accepting said he has hope the division within American organized labor soon will be over.

William Green

The 77-year-old Green also told the AFL's 69th annual convention:

"They've got the money but we've got the votes and we'll defeat Ohio's Sen. (Robert) Taft."

He also predicted labor has a good chance in aiding in the defeat of "two other men on our list"—Sen. Forrest C. Donnell (R-Mo) and Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis).

The aging, balding Green, a former Ohio coal miner, said he will endeavor to compose AFL's differences with the CIO and bring about labor unity.

"IF THERE IS any sacrifice I might make in order to make labor unity possible I'll make that sacrifice," he said.

Convention officials interpreted this to mean Green would be willing to step aside should only the question of selection of a chief executive stand in the way of an AFL-CIO merger.

Green said the AFL had only 2,500,000 members when he succeeded the late Samuel Gompers to the presidency in 1924.

"Today we have 8,000,000 paid-up members in good standing," he said. "This is no boastful attitude. We have erected a great temple of organization resting on a secure foundation."

Miss Arlene Yanos, Mr. Alfred Yerger Wed in St. Peter's

St. Peter's Lutheran church altar, decorated with palms and white gladioli, formed the setting for the marriage of Miss Arlene Marie Yanos, to Mr. Alfred Thomas Yerger, recently, when the Rev. Kenneth A. Anderson, pastor, assisted by the Rev. George A. Lineker, rector of Christ Episcopal church, performed a double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Yanos, 334 Vine street, Stowe and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Yerger, 629 Grant street.

Vocal selections were given by Mr. Ralph Quigg who was accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Harry E. Ellis.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown made from a sheer fabric, with an illusion neckline, a fitted bodice and three rows of lace ruffles starting in the front of the gown and ending in a long train. She wore a finger-tip veil which fell from a crown of orange blossoms and carried a white bible with gardenias.

Miss Ethel Yerger was the maid of honor and wore a aqua gown of sheer fabric with an illusion neckline, and a drape at the hemline. She carried an old fashion bouquet of yellow roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Betty Ehling, Miss Barbara Walters and Miss Marian Kupp. They wore gowns of American beauty, blue and salmon, respectively. The gowns had round ruffled necklines and padded hips. The bridesmaids carried old fashion bouquets of mixed flowers.

Mr. David Sterling was the best man and the ushers were Mr. Harold Yanos, Mr. Jack Stranick and Mr. Ray Hogan.

Mother of the bride wore a black dress with a flower design and the bridegroom's mother wore a wine dress. Both wore black accessories and corsages of pompons.

A reception followed the ceremony at the parish house of the church after which the couple left for a honeymoon in the Pocono mountains.

The couple will reside at 831 South street.

The bride was graduated from West Pottsgrove High school, class of 1950, and is employed by the Bell Telephone company.

The bridegroom was graduated from Pottstown Senior High school, class of 1948, and is employed by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company.

Past Activities Discussed By Scouts of Emmanuel

Girl Scout Troop 2 of Emmanuel Lutheran church met Wednesday night in the church to discuss the Summer activities.

The arts and craft badges and the bookbinding badge were passed by Carlene Dilliplane.

Leaders were Miss Jane Wentzel, Miss Helen Marie Kulp and Mrs. Betty Bush.

Japanese Education 'Health Hazard,' Reports Speaker

The desire of young Japanese to obtain greater education is becoming a health hazard, according to Mrs. Liza Foulke, guest speaker at the Montgomery County Public Health Nurses association dinner meeting, which was held at the Brookside Country club on Wednesday.

The speaker, of Ambler, who represented the Friends Service Committee, has recently returned from Japan where she spent some time working for the Licensed Agencies for Relief in Asia. Mrs. Foulke explained that because education is strongly stressed in Japan the young people sacrifice proper nutrition to acquire an education. As a result there is a very high tuberculosis rate.

Mrs. Foulke reported that since the American occupation a great improvement in health conditions is apparent. At present there are 500 health centers in Japan with 15 centers in each state and two to three public health nurses in each center. Also every school in Japan has a school nurse. Since 1945 the training schools for nurses differ little from those in America.

Public health nurses from Norristown, Whitemarsh, Ambler, Pennsburg, Green Lane, Conshohocken, Red Hill and Abington, attended.

Newcomers Club Meets; Plans Future Bake Sale

A delectable array of pies and cakes will be on display Saturday, Sept. 30, from 9 a. m. until, in a front section of the J. C. Penney store when members of the Newcomers club go all out on their "bake sale."

The Ways and Means committee, which held a meeting Wednesday night at the home of committee chairman, Mrs. Lester Smith, 517 High street, decided to hold the sale. All bakery goods as well as canned goods, which will also be available, will be donated by members of the Newcomers club.

Those present at the meeting were: Mrs. Michael Ferris, president; Mrs. Karl Kemmerling, Mrs. William Peterson, Mrs. Mitchell Retusznick, Mrs. Jackson Snyder, Mrs. Paul Trost and Mrs. Edward Weimer.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal R. Burtner, Pottstown RD 2, five years.

"Dry heat" when applied to meat cooking, means roasting, pan broiling, or broiling. Meat cuts that are tender and contain little connective tissue are the ones most successfully cooked by the dry heat method.

For That Smart Look

Fashion draws inspiration from many sources, geographical as well as historical. A Dalmation headdress, for instance, served as the source from which Harryson worked out this muffin of a dinner hat. Posed straight on top of the head, rather than atilt as is the way with most hats of beret persuasion, it is dramatized by a glittering rhinestone teardrop and a stiff edge veil of course black mesh.

Miss June Turoczi To Become Bride of Mr. Stanley Carroll

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, Miss June V. Turoczi and Mr. Stanley E. Carroll will be united in marriage in Trinity Reformed church, with the Rev. John B. Frantz, pastor, and the Rev. Tibor Csikesz, Phoenixville, officiating.

Miss Turoczi is the daughter of Mrs. Harry Turoczi, 253 Queen street, and Mr. Carroll is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Carroll, Harrisburg.

Prior to the double ring ceremony bridal music will be presented by Mrs. Norman Lepperd, organist, and Mr. Wilmer Toth, vocal soloist.

A brother of the bride, Mr. Lester Turoczi, New Jersey, will give his sister in marriage.

Maid of honor will be Miss Margaret Gombas, Phoenixville. Bridesmaids will be Miss Ann Ladjanski, Pottstown; Miss Mary Ann Varady, Stowe; Miss June Steiner, Weston; Miss Joy Glenn, Pottstown; and Miss Grace Kaseillecki, New Jersey.

Mr. John W. Carroll, Harrisburg, will serve as best man for his brother. Ushers will be Messrs. Alex Varady, Paul Ladjanski, Alex Czeiner, all of Pottstown; Dale Carroll, brother of the bridegroom, Harrisburg; and Elmer Orost, Phoenixville.

Flower girl will be Elizabeth Rose Turoczi, niece of the bride; and ring bearer will be Alexander Turoczi, nephew of the bride.

A reception will be held at 6 o'clock in the Bramcote hotel.

SAFETY TO BE EXPLAINED

Members of the Upper Providence Parent Teacher association will hear an explanation of the duties of safety patrols by a representative of the American Automobile association, at their meeting Thursday night, Sept. 28, at 8 o'clock in the school. Special music will be heard.

YWCA Board of Directors Hold Meeting; Reports Heard and Committees Elected

The YWCA board of directors held its first meeting of the season last night and discussed future plans as well as appointed committees. Miss Florence E. Decker, president, presided.

Mrs. Calvin Cressman was in charge of devotions.

Executive director, Mrs. Alex Tisdale, reported that 1740 persons used the YWCA building during the Summer. She also made the following announcements:

Swimming classes are held every Monday evening at the YMCA from 7 until 9 p. m.

Business girls club meets every other Monday in the club room.

Newcomers club meets every second Wednesday of the month.

Golden Age club meets every Monday afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock.

Girl Scouts also use the YWCA building for their headquarters.

MRS. TISDALE also said that many repairs were made to the building, which has gained a more attractive appearance, during the summer. And the YWCA also received a white enamel gas stove which was donated by a friend. The stove will be used in the club room kitchen.

The executive director was asked to serve as captain for the Health and Welfare team for the coming Community Chest drive.

Directors present were: Miss Dorothy D. Barkel, Mrs. Henry T. Schneider, Miss A. Edna Hutt, Mrs. Calvin Cressman, Mrs. Thomas F. Storm 3d, Mrs. Ruth S. Swinehart, Mrs. William S. Hoar, Mrs. Robert S. MacPhail, Mrs. Horace S. Ebert, Mrs. Ernest V. Hunter, Mrs. Richard Stamm, and Mrs. Tisdale.

COMMITTEES nominated are:

Executive committee: Miss Decker, president; Mrs. Shope, first vice president; Mrs. Raymond Detterer, second vice president; Miss Elizabeth Ware, secretary, and Mrs. Storm, treasurer.

Adult committee: Mrs. Detterer, chairman; Mrs. Ebert, Mrs. A. C. Seawell, Mrs. Storm, Mrs. Stamm, Mrs. D. V. Stevens, Miss Lois Cresswell and Mrs. Russell S. Shelly.

Devotions: Mrs. Cressman, chairman; Miss Ida Faust and Miss Ware.

Finance: Mrs. Joseph Prince, chairman; Mrs. MacPhail, Mrs. Shope, Mrs. Storm and Mrs. Stamm.

Membership: Mrs. Schneider, chairman; Miss Faust, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Swinehart and Mrs. Robert Linn.

Teen: Miss Barkel, chairman; Miss Hutt, Mrs. Hoar, Mrs. Linn and Mrs. Victor Roberts.

B-Tween: Miss Hutt, chairman; Miss Jeanne Brown, Mrs. Victor Roberts, and Mrs. Seawell.

Education: Mrs. MacPhail, chairman; Mrs. Hoar, Miss Brown, Miss Barkel and Mrs. Ebert.

House: Mrs. Shope and Mrs. Hunter, co-chairmen; Mrs. Cressman, Mrs. Joseph Prince, Mrs. Detterer, Mrs. Schneider and Mrs. Swinehart.

Publicity: Miss Ware.

Women's Group Outlines Fall and Winter Program

An outline for the Fall and Winter meetings of the Women's Missionary society of Baltzell Evangelical United Brethren church was given last night at a meeting in the church.

The scheduled speaker, Mrs. R. W. Friday, Quakertown, could not attend due to weather conditions.

Mrs. Walter Price, president, presided.

It was announced the service will be held next Thursday night at 7:45 o'clock in the church, in observance of the World Day of Prayer. Members of the society will present the program along with the missionary committee from the young people of the church.

The group expects to participate in the mission retreat in Telford, Oct. 3.

Reports were given by the secretary, Mrs. Betty Yoder, who was also in charge of devotions; and the treasurer, Mrs. Laura Knause.

Attending were Mrs. Mayme Robinson, Mrs. Martha Ellis, Mrs. Knause, Mrs. Yoder, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Price.

A beautiful skin is a young-looking skin. But it only looks young when well supplied with lipoids . . the natural oils so abundant in a baby's skin.
Do you look older than you want to?
Is your skin dry?
Do you have any lines or wrinkles?
Is there a hint, perhaps, of sagginess or "crêpiness" around the throat or temples?
Have time, work, and worry, illness, too much sun and wind, robbed you of young-looking beauty?
. . . then you need Oils of the Wilderness, the only correctly balanced lipoid beauty preparation.
Oils of the Wilderness can transform a tired, lined, fatigued-looking face into one which looks fresh and lovely.

High School and College Female Students Warned Against Lack of Good Grooming

It's being discovered more and more that there's a definite relationship between a girl's general poise and grooming, and her achievements at school.

This certainly figures in her social activities, but educators are finding it has a definite bearing on her scholastic progress as well. In fact, on many campuses, courses in good looks have been or are being organized.

Beauty and grooming counselors all over the country are being consulted for whatever hints they might consider appropriate, and one of the leading experts has offered a significant list of schoolgirl "do's" and "don'ts."

* * *

THE EXPERT, Miss Katherine Potter, believes that all girls should follow these rules. Very often the plain girl, who keeps trim and assured, seems infinitely more attractive than her prettier classmate who's forever primping and going overboard for the countless fads that invade the school crowd.

For instance, Miss Potter's first advice is cleanliness—in capital letters.

"This," she says, "means hair, clothes, nails, ribbons and teeth."

You should arrange your life so there'll always be time for face cleansing, shampoos, fingernail care, and so there'll always be fresh changes in the bureau drawer.

Her make-up advice is simply to select harmonizing colors, and to see to it that the cosmetics you use stay put throughout the day. A smeary lipstick that has to be checked and repaired over and over is scarcely the thing for the classroom.

SCHOOL CLOTHES should be becoming but simple—affording a minimum of distraction away from the main business of school subjects. Just make sure everything is clean and pressed. Avoid such wildly informal effects as flying shirttails.

And beware of extreme types of shoes. Keep your feet looking like feet.

Personal beauty care should include the daily workout with the hairbrush—a weekly shampoo, plus a suitable hairdo, frequent attention to fingernails (pushing the cuticle back every time you wash your hands), and a perfect nail polish job or none at all.

And the importance of regular use of a deodorant cannot be overemphasized.

Finally, your posture is very telling evidence of your own assurance. Walk as though you knew where you were going, others will think you do, too!

Parents Announce Miss Freed's Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. James O. Freed, of Main street, Red Hill, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Betty M. Freed, to Mr. Clegg F. Cashatt, son Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cashatt, Green Lane RD.

Both Miss Freed and Mr. Cashatt were graduated from East Greenville High school.

Miss Freed is employed as a secretary at Woodson Dairies and Mr. Cashatt is employed by John F. Keeler, Perkiomenville.

Miss Keinard to Wed Mr. Hines in Geigertown

The marriage of Miss June L. Keinard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heber Keinard, of 253 Hopwell street, Birdsboro, to Mr. Richard A. Himes, son of Mrs. Mabel Himes, and the late Mr. Clarence Himes, of 164 North Evans street, will take place Saturday, Sept. 30, at 2 p. m., in the St. James Lutheran church, Geigertown. The Rev. A. C. Shank, supply pastor, will perform the ceremony.

Miss Fern Keinard, sister of the bride-to-be, will be the honor attendant and Mr. Daniel Himes, brother of the future bridegroom, will serve as best man.

A reception at Geigertown Community hall will follow the ceremony.

CORRECTION

It was erroneously reported in yesterday's issue of The Mercury that the general chairmen of the Spat and Slipper ball are Mr. Brooke Lessig and Mrs. Ernest V. Hunter. They are chairmen of the decorating committee. General chairmen of the ball, to be held Nov. 24 in Brookside Country club, are Mr. and Mrs. H. Theodore Kemp.

To make a white sauce a beautiful pale yellow color, add a very little turmeric. This is good with seafood or vegetables.

Marriage Licenses

Applications for marriage licenses were made in Montgomery county courthouse, Norristown, by:

Earl D. Smith and Norma J. Ziegler, both of East Greenville.

Richard A. Himes, 164 North Evans street, and June L. Keinard, 253 Hopewell street, Birdsboro.

Ernest L. Schultz, New Hanover, and Nancy L. Seasholtz, 1025 South street.

Framing the Horseshoe Neckline

For the Fall suit with the horseshoes neckline, this new blouse of Celanese rippling crepe becomes a charming accessory. Designed by Ajello, its deep oval yoke, stitch-pleated with tiers of soft ruffles, makes a perfect filler for the open-front jacket or the jumper dress. Dressmakers might plan several costumes around such a blouse. Gold-type lozenge buttons trim the front and cuffs.

Dorothy Groff Is Feted In Pottstown Area Home

A bridal shower was held recently for Miss Dorothy Groff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Groff, Pottstown RD, in the home of Miss Marjorie Houck, Pottstown Landing.

Truck Snaps Pole, Plows Into Garden At Stowe When Operator Falls Asleep

A large truck traveled a fifth of a mile through a garden, across the road, over a ditch and through a field early yesterday morning after it clipped off a utility pole on West High street, near Grosstown road, Stowe.

The driver, Clarence Joseph Nelligan, 23, Norristown, escaped with a bruise of the head and right knee. He told Collegeville State police, who investigated, that he had fallen asleep.

Electric and telephone service to nearby homes was disrupted for several hours, until utility crews repaired the damage.

Nelligan said he was coming from Reading, where he had unloaded steel. After shearing off the pole standing 100 yards west of Grosstown road, the truck and flatbed semi-trailer ran through a garden parallel with the highway, owned by Walter Grow, 213 North Charlotte street.

Then it swerved across the highway, jumped a 2½-foot ditch, missing a stop sign by inches as it did so, and finally plowed 100 feet or more through a heavily-weeded field.

There was slight damage to the body of the trailer. Nelligan's injuries did not require medical treatment.

Time of the accident was fixed at 2:55 o'clock, when the electric clock stopped in the home of Joseph Covely, who operates Covely's restaurant near the scene.

A ZIEGLERVILLE man's car ran off the road twice after colliding with another Zieglerville man's car on Salford Station road, three miles north of Schwenkville, Wednesday night.

Theodore Heffentrager was going south. As his sedan started down a hill, it collided with the northbound sedan of John H. Diskicz, 32. Heffentrager's car went out of control, swerving off, on, off and on the road before he was able to halt it.

Heffentrager's car was damaged extensively; Diskicz's was damaged slightly. Both drivers were alone and uninjured. Collegeville State police investigated.

TWO DRIVERS disagreed about the place of the white line in an accident on High street, near Penn street, yesterday morning at 7:40 o'clock.

Fortunate Tufani, 519 West Race street, Stowe, said he was driving west a light truck in the lane nearer the white line when a car began passing him on the left, which led to the collision.

Virginia Swartley, Birdsboro RD 2, said she was starting to pass the truck, when it began a sudden left turn. She said she veered across the white line in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid the accident.

Both right fenders of the car and the left front fender of the truck were damaged. Patrolmen Charles D. Stetler and Paul Smith investigated.

THE DRIVERS OF three cars escaped injury last night when one car crashed against another and pushed it into the third at High and Keim streets.

Morris W. Scheffer, Norristown, told police he was driving east on High street when a car going south on Keim street, driven by Alvin N. Williams, 710 Mintzer street, went through a red light.

Scheffer said he crashed into the right side of Williams' car, pushing it into a car driven by Mrs. Jennie Bechtel, 1232 Maple street, which was traveling north on Keim street.

Both Williams and Mrs. Bechtel maintained Scheffer was the one who ran through the red light.

Patrolman Paul Bridegam and Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy, who investigated at 7:50 o'clock, reported the entire front of Scheffer's car was pushed in. The right side and left front of Williams' car and the left front of Mrs. Bechtel's car also were damaged.

Trustees Defer Action On Nurses' Pay Raise

MT. PLEASANT, Sept. 21 (AP)—Trustees delayed action on wage raise demands of 34 Frick Memorial hospital nurses who held to their code of ethics and withdrew mass resignations.

The nurses resigned over a wage dispute involving demands for a $40 a month pay boost over their present $140 a month salary.

But representatives of the Pennsylvania Nurses association appealed to them to remember their ethics as nurses. They stayed on the job.

Seventh-Grade Girl Stumps Senator Taft

SOMERSET, Ohio, Sept. 21 (AP)—U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) extended an invitation to his audience in Somerset high school to ask him questions this morning.

There was a long pause.

Finally, Seventh-Grader Eula Jean Moore rose to her feet:

"Senator," she inquired, "How much does the President make a year in salary?"

The senator was stumped. Finally he replied:

"Frankly, I've forgotten. But it is a large sum."

Taft went on to explain that because of living and travel expenses provided the President, the salary would amount to "a million dollars a year to the average person."

The senator's visit to Somerset was part of his current campaign tour.

Sharman Douglas is the daughter of an ambassador, a lovely looker and a lass with an extra helping of gray matter, but she has lots to learn in the arts of subterfuge. A Hollywood visitor, she told reporters: "I didn't come to see Peter Lawford. I am not in love with Peter Lawford nor anyone else." Then she got into a waiting tan convertible. The driver — Peter Lawford.

Clement Attlee and Winston Churchill have never rivaled Damon and Pythias in their affection for one another. And lately bobbies have been on the alert to forestall any parliamentary mayhem. But in a recent vitriolic speech in Commons, Winnie was seized with a distressing fit of coughing. Attlee sat calmly for seconds, then fingered a glass of water at hand and held it out toward Churchill. What looked like a momentous peace pact fizzled as the Conservative leader reached down and grabbed his own glass of aqua.

Dean Acheson, who's taking an all-around drubbing these days, came in for another setback in the sartorial department. Fiery Warren Austin has replaced Acheson as America's best-dressed stateman. The boys who dole out the accolades said "Acheson's clothes looked too British, and that Austin's typifies the American ambassador in dress as well as manner."

The much-traveling, much-romancing King Farouk received a terrible shock in the midst of his meanderings. The round ruler arrived in San Sebastian, Spain, and was informed that gambling is not permitted in the land of Franco. To top it off, an expected rendezvous with Mimi Medart, 16-year-old St. Louis girl, missed connections as the youthful beauty had already checked out.

The government could probably use some more economical solons of the ilk of Senator Aiken (R-Vt). Aiken filed his campaign expense account with the Vermont secretary of state and reported no expenditures — which shouldn't go too well with some of the more extravagant men of the upper chamber. Aiken was unopposed for renomination.

George Bernard Shaw, who defies time in addition to just about every human being on the face of the globe, has uncovered a touchy spot—his beard. When the medicos prepared G. B. S. for his recent thigh operation it appeared as if part of the luxuriant growth would have to be snipped off. But the old boy kicked his one good heel and settled for a little plastering of the beard to his face. However, the job of removing the plaster sent Shaw into a lengthy squealing session.

Jackie Coogan who has the happy faculty of making his wives hate him with a passion—he just lost his third—perhaps renders some service after all. Ann McCormack gave the judge the usual beef—Jackie was "sadistic mentally," among other things—but then pulled a real reversal of form. Seems as if the unhappy moments with Coogan had made her self-sufficient. When queried as to the amount of alimony needed, she said none and added "I think I am capable of going out and taking care of myself."

Those fine old Southern gentlemen may have some parched throats long about Christmas time. Democratic Senator Withers, of Kentucky, has passed out the sad news that bourbon is plentiful but the casing that fits around—the bottles—are on the scarce side. Soda ash strikes have sent bottle supplies near the zero point and bourbon-loving Kentuckians may be dreaming of a dry Christmas instead of the usual white one.

Sir Gladwyn Jebb, the stocial Security council president, is overwhelmed by his success as a television idol. Jebb is fearful his video fame will play some hob with his standing with the British government. Popularity is frowned upon for members of foreign office — and Jebb is now competing with Milton Berle himself as the No. 1 idol.

A surrealist is tabbed usually as an eccentric sore of a chap — but when you encounter a Cuban surrealist, 'tis best to wear armor, asbestos and a bullet-proof vest. Rene Alis, a gentleman who dabbles in the surrealist trend of art, invited friends to see an exhibition of 50 of his canvases at Havana. Overhearing a few unkind words, the cantankerous Cuban proceeded to burn each picture, one by one. The little blaze destroyed the work of six years.

Miss Pauline Ehst, corr. Charles Grosser delivery.

Girl Scouts of Troop 21 met in the fire hall and elected patrol leaders, troop scribe and treasurer. Those elected were:

Erma Hess, leader; and Rosalie Shaner, assistant leader, of Patrol 1; Eleanor Grosser, leader, and Frances Mauger, assistant leader, of Patrol 2; Elizabeth Kreiser, leader, and Fern Miller, assistant leader, of Patrol 3; Rebecca Frey, troop scribe, and Annetta Reichert, troop treasurer.

Troop activities were discussed and an outline of the plans for October, November, December and January will be made at a special meeting of the court of honor. The next meeting will be held Tuesday night, Oct. 3, at 6:45 o'clock in the fire hall.

Others present were: Fay Moser, Marjorie Trollinger, Arline Moyer, Eleanor Zern, Helen Schaeffer and Rosalie Brooke, and leaders, Catherine Kreiser, Pauline Ehst and Marie Ehst.

Raymond and Charles Mauger, Pottstown, visited in the home of their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Mauger.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Clemmer, New Berlinville, visited Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Fronheiser.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

WHEN Lowell Thomas commutes he avoids the smoking car because the smoke irritates his throat and makes him sound a bit less mellifluous at the microphone later. One day, in the non-smoker, however, a gent plopped himself in the other half of Thomas's seat, and lit a giant stogie.

Unwilling to create a scene, Thomas waited for the conductor to come by and punch his commutation ticket. As he handed it over, he tapped the conductor's arm, and nodded to the gent with the stogie. The conductor nodded back, gave his ticket another punch, and moved on down the car.

Mr. Durrell was driving his wife and her girl friend from Mt. Vernon to Stamford. The girl friend asked, "Why does your husband always put his hand out when he's driving?" Mrs. Durrell answered, "I suppose it's because the worm is getting ready to turn."

Tickle Your Funnybone

While being shaved, the man about town suggested to the girl manicuring his nails that they dine, drink, and dance that evening. She nervously declined, saying she was married.

"Oh, I don't think your husband would object to your being nice to a lonely stranger. Ask him, anyway."

"Ask him yourself," she said, "he's shaving you."

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Dilworth Will Bring Campaign Message Here Today at Noon

Richardson Dilworth, Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, today will bring his caravan campaign to Boyertown. He will be introduced by Ralph C. Body, Democratic party chairman of Berks county.

Dilworth will speak at the corner of West Third and South Walnut streets at approximately 12 o'clock noon. He will be officially welcomed to Boyertown by Burgess James A. Fritz.

Dilworth will talk from the top of his station wagon which is equipped with a loud speaker system.

Approximately an hour and half before his appearance, a sound truck will tour the streets of Boyertown announcing his arrival. This procedure is followed in his campaign throughout the State.

* * *

Chairman Body said that anyone interested in meeting the candidate may join the luncheon party.

After he leaves Boyertown, Dilworth will make a tour of a number of Berks communities and will end the day with a rally at Penn Square, Reading, tonight at 9 o'clock. A reception will follow.

Local PTA Admits Over 70 Members

More than 70 new members were admitted to the Washington school Parent-Teacher association at the "get acquainted night" held in the school.

Over 100 persons attended the affair, described as the most successful PTA meeting ever conducted here. All brought a box lunch and the PTA served pretzels and birch beer.

Teachers of the school received the parents in their respective rooms and the parents saw a few of the things their children do and learn while in school.

Mrs. Dorothea L. Wise, PTA president and kindergarten teacher, discussed some of the future events listed for PTA. The first event, the next meeting, will be held Tuesday, Oct. 17 in the form of a Hallowe'en party with everyone in costume.

A membership campaign is being conducted at present, all parents being invited to join.

Games in charge of Mrs. Curtis Welder, chairman of the hospitality committee, were conducted for three various age groups, pre-school and kindergarten; Grades 1 to 3 and Grades 4 to 6.

Mrs. Wise was in charge of the affair.

Gilbertsville Girl Scouts Work for Painting Badge

Members of Girl Scout Troop 12, Gilbertsville, met at the fire hall where they worked for interior decorating and drawing and painting badges.

The troop, with members of the Brownie troop, are planning a trip to the miniature Village at Hamburg, tomorrow. All members are urged to meet at the fire hall at 11:45 a. m. in preparation to leave promptly at 12 noon.

Mary Emery and Naomi Boughter, members of the troop committee, were visitors.

Virginia M. Linsenbigler, leader, and Sonya Benfield, assistant leader, were in charge of the meeting.

The white oak is Maryland's official state tree.

Sped From Front to Family's Side

Caught in a Red pocket on the Korean front only four days earlier, Army Captain Neal J. Ahern is kissed by his wife Kathryn and daughter Carol, 3, in Los Angeles. He obtained 30 days emergency leave on recommendation of doctors, to reach his wife's side because of possible complications in the birth of a second child.

Birthday Party Held For Two Area Boys

Two second birthdays were observed at a recent party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas B. Frain, of Boyertown RD 1. The honored guests were Barry Lee Frain and Gregory Gaver.

Both boys received many gifts. Refreshments were served. There were two large birthday cakes, each with two candles, in honor of the occasion.

The following attended: Mrs. Ernest Johnson and daughter, Diane; Mrs. Lester Moyer and daughter, Dorothy Ann; Mrs. Walter Schollenberger, all of New Berlinville; Mrs. Charles Kalis and daughter, Christine, of Pottstown; Eric Barshinger, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Emes and daughter, June, Morwood; Robert Frain, Miriam Frain, Mrs. Carl Gaver, all of Boyertown RD 1; the guests of honor, and the hosts.

Woman's Club Group Attends Conference At Hotel in Reading

Eight members of the Woman's club, of Boyertown, attended the first Southeastern district conference of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs for the 1950-51 year at the Abraham Lincoln hotel, Reading, with the vice president, Mrs. Russell L. Foster, presiding.

The theme of the conference was "Know Yourself—Understand Your Neighbor."

The Rev. W. Paul Thompson, rector of Christ Episcopal church, invoked the blessing.

Mrs. J. W. Books, president of the Berks County Federation of Women's Clubs and hospitality chairman for the day, presented the welcome, followed with a response by Mrs. Lewis M. Detz, president of the Delaware county Federation.

Mrs. J. Ellis Stern, president of the Chester county federation, urged the audience to "study to be quiet and work with your hands."

A PANEL ON federation was arranged by Mrs. Arthur Vincent, chairman of the State Federation of Education. A junior conference was conducted by Mrs. Benfer Zechman, second vice president-at-large.

Dr. Dale Moore, president of Cedar Crest college, Allentown, addressed the convention on "Building Freedom's Future With Youth." He spoke on the importance that young women today play in building the future peace. He explained that the future of peace depends on the education of minds.

Mrs. Harry W. Schaal, new president of the State federation, asked the members cooperation with State officers and outlined procedures for the new year.

The conference ended with credentials by Mrs. Ralph Fertig, president of the Schuylkill county federation, and Mrs. Simon Snyder, president of the Lancaster county federation.

Members attending from the local Woman's club included: Mrs. Paul R. Hafer, president; Mrs. Claude W. Kline, immediate past president, both official delegates; Mrs. Mark Campbell, secretary.

Also Mrs. B. Frank Hafer, conservation and gardens division chairman; Mrs. Warren Grofe, charter president, an dthe following past presidents, Mrs. William Engel, Mrs. Samuel Knouse and Mrs. I. Ralph March.

Upper Merion 11 Tests Unseasoned PHS Aggregation

Nine Seniors and a pair of Juniors carry Pottstown High colors into combat tonight when the Trojans break the seal on the 1950 grid season against Upper Merion at 8 o'clock on Franklin field.

However, despite the fact that the majority of the starters are Seniors, the Trojans will field one of the most under-experienced teams in recent years. Only fullback Sam Green, halfback Earl Decker and ends Tom Pollick and Paul Duttenhofer are heldover regulars from 1949.

The once-beaten Spartans and the untested Trojans were preparing yesterday for sloggy going. Rain was forecast today, and if there is enough of it, the game may be postponed temporarily.

* * *

POTTSTOWN HIGH rates a slight favorite tonight, although the Spartans, with eight lettermen in the starting lineup and a competitive tussle under their belt, are expected to make trouble.

Upper Merion odds shorten as the rain falls, for Pottstown is expected to bank strongly on its passing game.

At any rate, the contest is expected to be the closest in several years of competition between the two foes. Last year a redhot Pottstown team scored a 14-0 victory just coasting along; and the year before it was Trojans, 26-0.

Upper Merion will be hoping to duplicate the 25-7 upset it plastered on the locals in 1947.

STAN CHAPLIN, one of the two Juniors in the starting array, will pilot the Trojan T. He is expected to assign inside ball-carrying duties to crushing fullback Sam Green, an all-state candidate, and outside work to halfbacks Alex Czarick and Earl Decker.

Up front, veterans Tom Pollick and Paul Duttenhofer open at ends, and if Chaplin is throwing, they will be his chief targets. George Cisick and Harry Hausmann, who lettered as reserves in 1949, open at tackle; while flyweights Herbie White and Wee Willie Walton are guard choices.

At center, Coach Heeb Meyers has decided to string along with Junior Dick Hiddemen, who will be playing in his first interscholastic game. He was moved up when Dick Weiser, a veteran, was sidelined with a fractured ankle two weeks ago.

* * *

THE SPARTANS will rely a great deal on fullback Archie Scott, a plummeting linebuster, and the passing of Ronnie Rex and John Matzik. Matzik is the pilot of the Spartan's T-formation and a holdover.

The visitors boast a pair of fine, experienced wingmen in Maurice Ramsey and Joe Dudas, both of whom carry over basketball finesse onto the gridiron.

Alex Scott, Archie's brother, is a standout in the forward wall, as is center Ted Teaford, another returnee.

UPPER MERION dropped a 19-7 decision to a better-than-average Ambler team last Friday night, but with a few breaks could have reversed the count, scouts report. They'll go to the post tonight a battle-wise crew of upset-minded gridders.

'Jug' Rained Out

DELAWARE, Ohio, Sept. 21 (AP)—Rain washed away the "Little Brown Jug" today, and there was question whether the fifth annual $56,000 classic for three-year-old pacers would ever be held.

Simmons Labeled

DETROIT, Sept. 21 (AP) — The onrushing Detroit Tigers cashed in on nine walks today to drub the hapless Philadelphia Athletics 8-2 and climb into a tie with the New York Yankees for first place in the American League pennant scramble.

The victory gave the Detroiters a sweep of the three game series with the A's and left them a chance to grab sole ownership of the No. 1 spot when they meet Cleveland tomorrow.

New York was idle today and also will have a day off tomorrow.

The luckless Athletics, whose pitching staff is riddled with a collection of sore arms and other injuries, had to rely today on a couple of pitchers who hadn't won a game this season.

Starter Joe Coleman walked four men in the opening inning, but the A's replacements were so thin they stuck with him until the seventh when rookie Joe Murray took over.

LADY LUCK, who gave the Tigers a great big helping hand in their 6-5 win over the A's yesterday, came through for them again today in a six-run first inning that settled the issue in a hurry.

It was a weird inning for pitcher Joe Coleman, one of the few pitchers who was not on the Athletics' ailing list. Four walks and three hits figured in that six-run uprising, even before the chilled crowd of 5194 had gotten comfortably seated.

Coleman was fairly stingy with base hits but his over generosity in giving up nine walks during his six-inning stay snuffed out any chances the Athletics had to win.

Tiger pitcher Freddie Hutchinson was tagged hard and often as the Athletics banged out 13 solid hits. Detroit collected only eight off Coleman and his successor, rookie Joe Murray.

The Tigers came up with four double plays to pull Hutchinson out of trouble as the Athletics saw their lead-off batter get on base in every inning but the eighth. In that case it was the second batter who got on.

It was Hutchinson's 17th win. Coleman was tagged with his fifth loss, against no victories.

COLEMAN'S LACK of control saw him walk in a run with the bases loaded in the first inning, and another in the fourth. He had been troubled most of the year with a sore arm but was about the nearest thing to a physicaly capable pitcher that Connie Mack could muster.

★ ★ ★ ★

Dodgers Batter Bucs

BROOKLYN, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers spotted the Pittsburgh Pirates three runs in the first inning today, but got four of their own in the fourth and five more in the fifth to record a 10-8 triumph.

Other than the two big innings, the Brooks were not able to do much with the offerings of three Pirate pitchers. They managed to get one across in the second, but otherwise were handcuffed.

The Dodgers used four flingers.

★ ★ ★ ★

Spahn Wins 21st

BOSTON, Sept. 21 (AP) — Lefty Warren Spahn became the National League's first 21-game winner today by pitching the Boston Braves to a two-hit 5-0 shutout over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The triumph, which gave the Braves an 11-11 season's split with the Cardinals, enabled them to continue in their second-place deadlock with the Brooklyn Dodgers, seven games back of the idle Philadelphia Phillies.

Rookie Ed Mickelson, filling in at first base for grippe-stricken Stan Musial, singled and advanced on Marty Marion's sacrifice in the second inning. Eddie Kazak got the other St. Louis single with two out in the fifth.

Spahn was given a flying start by his mates. In the first frame Roy Hartsfield led off by working Gerry Staley for a base on balls and Sam Jethroe followed with his 17th homer.

Maglie Beaten

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP) — Sal Maglie, who had run up a winning skein of 11 games, came up against the pesky Cincinnati Reds today and was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning. Luke Sewell's crew, having taken care of their main problem, then went on to paste an 8-5 defeat on the New York Gants.

The loss was the fourth of the campagin for Maglie, and three of them have come at the hands of the Reds. Howie Fox started for the Reds and held the New Yorkers in check until the eighth inning when they scored four runs. He had to be rescued by Frank Smith who held the lead.

Kudo-Bertucci Bout Tops Card

Reading, Sept. 21—Kiman Kudo, of Honolulu, and Lou (Golden Boy) Bertucci, of California, will be windup principals when the 1950-1951 indoor wrestling season gets under way Saturday night, Sept. 23, at the Reading Armory.

Buddy Curtis, newcomer from New York, and Francois Miquet, former champion of France, will share semi-feature billing. Rounding out the all-action three-event program will be a best-of-three-falls Australian tag team match in which Steve Karas, of Detroit, and Bobby Ford, of San Francisco, will take on Jack Ruffin, onetime Masked Phantom from Tennessee, and Les Ruffin, of New York.

Hill Prince Clinches Three-Year-Old Title

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP) — Hill Prince, the bob-tailed flyer from Virginia, just about locked up the 1950 three-year-old championship and threw the key away when he soundly whipped 12 sophomore rivals in the $24,400 Jerome Handicap.

King ranch's Middleground, hero of the Kentucky Derby and Belmont stakes, never showed in contention and straggled home tenth.

Erntex Tops Trojans 36-24 For Outdoor Tourney Title

Erntex Knitters flicked on the speed when they needed it last night to score a handy 36-24 victory over a battling Senior Trojan quintet and win the Recreation Commission's Outdoor Basketball tourney for the second straight year.

A Junior High gym crowd of nearly 100 persons watched the Knitters run up an early 16-6 lead, then run their victory out from there. The Trojans, who had sprung a 34-25 upset against a riddled Knitter team the night before, couldn't cope with a full-strength Erntex crew.

The victory cleared Knitter decks for a coming debut in the strong Main Line league.

GLIDE-GEARED Henry Stofko, who had been among the missing when the Trojans scored their upset, guided his club to victory with four baskets and two fouls for ten points, tops of the night.

Stofko bucketed seven of his points in the first half, while doing a neat coverup job on Louie Iezzi, the Trojans' ace scorer. Tow-headed Henry tossed up two hook deuces and a set push as Erntex worked into a 22-13 midway lead.

The Trojans bit into the lead a bit in the early stages of the last half, chiefly on foul shots and Erntex inability to regain the range, but the victors maintained superiority in the low-scoring half by a 14-11 count.

SCORING FOR both teams was well-divided. Stofko was the only double figure scorer, while John Henry had seven and Earl Strom six points for the winners.

Iezzi's seven points led the Trojans. Vince Rettew and John Hallman chimed in with six apiece, but high-scoring Dick Ricketts was blanketed by Erntex's neat defensive work, particularly that of Dick Bender and Carl Trollinger. Ricketts had three markers.

Shoot or Hold Fire—EE Club Cannot Decide

Fourteen members of the East End Rod and Gun club reached an impasse at their initial Fall business meeting and banquet held in the Elks club last night.

The big question, thoroughly thrashed over but not settled, is whether or not the members will shoot doe at their Cross Forks, Potter county retreat during the two days immediately preceding the buck deer season.

As a result of the no-decision, the group will hold another meeting later to settle the issue.

Present for the first confab were George Miller, president; John B. Hartenstine, secretary; Albert Kramer, treasurer, Raph Mauger, Charles Krause, Peter J. Kaigolo, Ward Kramer, Harold Rubright, Charles Smith, John B. Kramer, Robert H. Rubright, Peter Roth, Jack Longaker and Jeff Hartenstine.

The 32-20 defeat at the hands of Michigan in 1942 is the worst setback ever handed a Frank Leahy-coached Notre Dame team.

GREEN, DUT CO-CAPTAINS

Sam Green and Paul Duttenhofer, standout Seniors, yesterday were named to co-captain Pottstown High's Trojans in tonight's opening contest with Upper Merion High at Franklin field.

Green is climaxing a brilliant career as a bulling Trojan fullback; while Duttenhofer is starting his second year as regular left end with the PHS eleven. Both are three lettermen at Pottstown High.

Bulldogs, Lower Moreland Meet in Matinee Contest

Pennsburg High's bobtailed football squad—17 strong—moves on Lower Moreland today with an idea toward evening its 1950 grid log.

The Pennsburgs took an 18-0 lacing from powerful Sellersville-Perkasie last Friday night, but looked surprisingly strong going down. The Moreland team figures to be more in the Bulldog class.

Coach Lou Pirnik, who vows that his short squad is one of the best in the recent history of Pennsburg football, is confident his charges can upend today's foe just as they did last year when Dick Buck slanted into the end zone to give the Dogs a 6-0 conquest.

Buck will be back to menace Lower Moreland today, but much of the supporting cast has been changed.

GUIDING PIRNIK'S new split-T formation will be Red Thomas, stellar little defensive halfback of 1949. Thomas took over the slot when Martin Leonard, groomed for piloting, suffered an injury before the Sell-Perk test and has clung to his job.

Harold Specht, a stickout against the S-P unit, teams with Buck at the halfback berths, while Don Bauer goes to the post as the starting fullback.

Up front, end to end, the Bulldogs will open with captain-elect Jerry Haas, Don Mumbauer, Maynard Moyer, Carl Snyder, Harvey Snyder, Harvey Gaugler and Os Wentling.

WELL-PLEASED with the garrison work of his defenders the past Friday, Pirnik devoted most of the week to tuning of Pennsburg's attack. Against Sell-Perk, his club rolled to three straight first downs the first time it had the ball before surrendering on downs.

It may be that the Bulldogs will open up in the air lanes today. Thomas is a fair-to-good passer, as is Buck, and Wentling and Haas at the ends can range far and haul them in.

Another phase of the Bulldog attack that was sharpened over the week was the quick-opening plays that feature Specht and Bauer. Both chaps have shown ability to move out once past the scrimmage line, and are expected to accelerate even more against the Morelands.

The contest will be the year's opener for Lower Moreland, which suffered one of its most dismal seasons in 1949. It will be an afternoon fray that gets underway at 3:15.

Phils Hang Up 'Sold Out' Sign

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21 (AP)—Bob Carpenter, president of the Philadelphia Phillies, announced today any requests for World Series tickets received after midnight tonight would be rejected.

He said the action was necessary because the tremendous flood of applications had made it almost impossible for his staff to handle them efficiently.

The club said 30 bags of mail, containing about 130,000 applications have been received.

But, said ticket manager Andy Clark, nearly half the applications have been rejected because the senders failed to comply with rules set forth by owner Bob Carpenter.

Clark said most of the rejections were because postmarks were earlier than the stipulated time.

The Phils offered 92,000 seats for games 1, 2, 6 and 7 of the series with each applicant limited to two seats. That means only 46,000 applications were successful in securing seats.

Sports Slants

By JOE MUCH

(This is the sixth in a series of articles on prospects of Perkiomen-Schuylkill Valley league teams).

ROYERSFORD High's energetic young Eagles were jouncing blithely through dummy drills when a flushed and eager face popped up from the scrimmage line and pleaded, "Let's have a little scrimmage, coach."

Eagle trainer Bob McNelly guided a tobacco cud from jowl to jowl, smiled serenely and wagged his head. He was fashioning a negative reply, and at the same time contemplating the zest of his youngsters — and rotund Mr. McNelly appreciates zest.

McNelly beamed his smile our way, and said, "I guess when they really want that scrimmage, the best thing is to make 'em wait. Then, they'll get hungry and mean."

That could be the essence of McNelly's success as an inspirational leader, but likely, it is not that simple. Royersford's Doctor of Biff has been known to lift his Eagle ensembles to nebulous heights for a given game, then coax them back to earth to polish off a negligible, but dangerous opponent the next time out.

AFFABLE BOB is expecting to tootle his charming flute again this Fall, but for the most part, he'll string along with his solidly-good ball club, sans legerdemain, and watch them gambol through the Perk conference.

Stack them any way you will, or riddle them with injuries as the past week has succeeded in doing, and the Eagles still represent a corking contingent.

Royersford small fry carries around a universal affection and respect for the canny McNelly, and when he crooks a finger, the kids come arunning to the drill field in goodly numbers.

For example, the current Eagle squadron numbers some 50 youngsters, counting Frosh, and there is little dead weight.

AS LONG AS the underclassmen are elbowing for position, the regulars operate full tilt, lest their jobs be jeopardized. The situation makes a lot of difference, and a lot more football.

Right now, McNelly has two full hi-test backfields, one solid line and a bevy of capable fill-ins. Injury has bitten into the brigade, but not weakened it to flabbiness.

Take for example, the Eagle running corps. Early this week Al Fisher, a potential starter, was nailed from behind by a severe siege of yellow jaundice. Up popped Lou Alexander to take over a right halfback berth.

Paul Feairheller, whom McNelly calls his finest ballcarrier, suffered a wrenched ankle in a scrimmage session. Along came Gary Grater with a gush that is expected to payoff Saturday.

UP FRONT, THE Eagles present a formidable and largely familiar array. Bob Troxell and Mike Ralston, both of whom menaced foes during 1949, are back up to menacing tricks. Six-four, 195-pound Bill Judge is expected to produce his finest year at tackle, and Gene Lincoln is looking to a good season at the other tackle slot.

Judge runs at right guard offensively to facilitate Eagle quick openers from a lightning T-formation, then shifts to defending left tackle where he is a one-man riot.

At guards, the Eagles will be light—185-pound Everett Evans was knocked out by a broken nose this week—but fast and rough. Bob kulp at 156 and Jerry Hoff at 145 get the starting nods there.

Nick Dinocenti, a 155-pounder, goes first at center.

The personnel is there, and once the injured players return, the Perk conference can batten the hatches.

COUPLE THE NATIVE strength with a zip that Royersford has patented and the extraordinary craftiness of McNelly and, as far as we can see it, you have your Perk league, upper tier champs.

Of course, the crippled Eagles have to vault past a rocky Boyertown team tomorrow, and East Greenville has repeat championship written from end to end, but we've just gotta string with the McNelly manner.

Yom Kippur Observance by Jews Ends; Succoth to Be Celebrated Monday, Tuesday

A 24-hour fast and day-long prayers in the Congregation Mercy and Truth synagog to celebrate Yom Kippur—the day of atonement—ended at 6:59 o'clock last night as the sun went down.

The observance of the holiday, which is considered the holiest day in the Jewish year, began at 6:45 o'clock Wednesday night. Dr. Emil Schorsch, rabbi, gave two sermons at the services marking Yom Kippur.

Pottstown's Jewish community will continue to observe religious holidays during the coming week when it celebrates Succoth—the feast of the tabernacles.

Services scheduled at the synagog for the coming week are:

Tonight, 6:58 p. m., candle lighting and evening service. Tomorrow, 9 a. m., morning service; 6:56 p. m., afternoon and evening service. Sunday, 8 a. m., morning service; 10:30 a. m., Sunday school.

Monday, 7 a. m., morning service; 5:35 p. m., candle lighting and Eve of Succoth service. Tuesday, first day of Succoth, 9 a. m. morning service, sermon theme, "Man's Task in Nature's Paradise"; 5:35 p. m., evening service.

Wednesday, second day of Succoth, 9 a. m., morning service, sermon theme, "How to Survive the Catastrophes of the Human Race"; 5:35 p. m., afternoon and evening service.

Refreshments will be served following the morning and afternoon services on the first and second days of Succoth.

Dog Is Electrocuted By Falling Live Wire

PRAGUE, Sept. 21 (AP)— Mr. and Mrs. Frantisek Krocils' dog was electrocuted by a live wire which fell near its kennel in the Moravian village of Vapenice.

Mrs. Krocils went to its aid. And, as the newspaper Lidova Demokracie told the story tonight, she was electrocuted.

Mr. Krocils went to help his wife. He was electrocuted, too.

War Casualty

Wounded slightly in the Korean fighting was Pfc. George Migala (above), 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Migala, Grosstown road, Stowe. His family was notified by the War department that he had been wounded and admitted to a hospital. The extent of his injury was not described. Migala was hurt on Sept. 9, presumably fighting with the 25th Division.

Obstacles Halt Lifting Of Belle Vista License

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21 (AP)—William C. Brown, State welfare secretary, declared today his agency has been faced with "one obstable after another" in its effort to revoke the license of the Belle Vista sanatorium near Philadelphia.

The department instituted revocation proceedings against the institution after a fire last March 29 took the lives of 10 Belle Vista patients.

ABC Contributes $15 To Veterans' Council

The American Business club contributed $15 to the Pottstown Veteran's council last night, to help pay the expenses of send-off for departing draftees.

The club had offered more, it was reported, but the council said it needed no more than $15.

Twenty Ambucs, meeting in the Elks' home, also voted to support the Pottstown Recreation commission's Hallowe'en parties the night of Oct. 30.

Joseph L. Bowen was appointed chairman to work with the commission in planning the parties.

Carl M. Binder and Charles Grubb will represent the local chapter at a Seventh district committee meeting in Reading Sunday, to plan for the 1951 national convention in Atlantic city.

William the Conqueror had established his authority as the mightiest lord in France by the time he was 24 years of age.
